RULES TO REGULATE THE TRANSPORT AND IMPORTATION OF EXPLOSIVES.

No. 1393.—In supersession of the Notification by the Government of India, Home Department, No. 1417 (Public), dated the 24th June 1887, and in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 5 and 7 of the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884), the Governor General in Council is pleased to make the following rules to regulate the transport and importation of explosives.

These Rules extend to the whole of British India, but the rules relating to the transport of explosives shall cease to apply to any port as defined in the Indian Ports Act (X of 1889) for which special rules made by the Local Government are for the time being in force, in so far as they are expressly superseded by, or are inconsistent with, such special rules.

Nothing in these Rules shall apply to the manufacture, possession, use, sale, transport, or importation of any explosive—

(a) by order of the Government, or

(b) by any person employed under the Government in the execution of the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884), or as a keeper of a magazine, artizan, soldier, sailor, policeman, or otherwise, or enrolled as a volunteer under the Indian Volunteers Act (XX of 1869), in the course of his employment or duty as such.

PRELIMINARY.

1. For the purposes of these rules, explosives shall be classified as follows, namely :

Class 1	Gunpowder.
Class 2	Nitrate-mixture.
Class 3	Nitro-compound.
Class 4	Chlorate-mixture.
Class 5	Fulminate.
Class 6	Ammunition.
Class 7	Firework.

And when an explosive falls within the description of more than one class, it shall be deemed to belong exclusively to the latest of the classes within the description of which it falls.

CLASS 1.—Gunpowder Class.

The term "gunpowder" means exclusively gunpowder ordinarily so called.

CLASS 2.—Nitrate-mixture Class.

The term "nitrate-mixture" means any preparation, other than gunpowder ordinarily so called, formed by the mechanical mixture of a nitrate with any form of carbon or with any carbonaceous substance not possessed of explosive properties, whether sulphur be or be not added to such preparation, and whether such preparation be or be not mechanically mixed with any other non-explosive substance.

The nitrate-mixture class comprises such explosives as—

Pyrolithe,
Pudrolithe,
Poudre saxifragine,

and any preparation coming within the above definition.

CLASS 3.—Nitro-compound Class.

The term "nitro-compound" means any chemical compound possessed of explosive properties, or capable of combining with metals to form an explosive compound, which is produced by the chemical action of nitric acid (whether mixed or not with sulphuric acid) or of a nitrate mixed with sulphuric acid upon any carbonaceous substance, whether such compound is mechanically mixed with other substances or not.

The nitro-compound class has two divisions.

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Nitro-glycerine,
Dynamite,
Lithofracteur,

Dualine,
Glyoxiline,
Methylic nitrate,

and any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation which consists, either wholly or partly, of nitro-glycerine or some other liquid nitro-compound. Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Gun-cotton ordinarily so called.
Gun-paper,
Xyloidine,
Gun sawdust,
Nitrated Gun-cotton,

Cotton gunpowder,
Schultz's powder,
Nitro-mannite,
Picrates,
Picric powder,

Tonite (or cotton powder), and any nitro-compound as before defined which is not comprised in the first division.

CLASS 4.—Chlorate-mixture Class.

The term "chlorate-mixture" means any explosive containing a chlorate.
The chlorate-mixture class has two divisions.

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's blasting powder,
Brain's blasting powder, and any chlorate preparation which consists partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's original blasting powder,	Hochstadter's blasting charges,
Erhardt's powder,	Reichen's blasting charges,
Reverley's powder,	Teutonite,
Chlorated gun-cotton, and any chlorate-mixture as before defined which is not comprised in the first division.

CLASS 5.—Fulminate Class.

The term "fulminate" means any chemical compound or mechanical mixture, whether included in the foregoing classes or not, which, from its great susceptibility to detonation, is suitable for employment in percussion-caps or any other appliances for developing detonation, or which, from its extreme sensibility to explosion and from its great instability (that is to say, readiness to undergo decomposition from very slight exciting causes), is especially dangerous.

The fulminate class has two divisions.

Division 1 comprises such compounds as the fulminates of silver and of mercury and preparations of these substances, such as are used in percussion-caps, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with phosphorus, or certain descriptions of phosphorus compounds, with or without the addition of carbonaceous matter, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with sulphur, or with a sulphurate, with or without carbonaceous matter.

Division 2 comprises such substances as the chloride and the iodide of nitrogen, fulminating gold and silver, diazobenzol, and the nitrate of diazobenzol.

CLASS 6.—Ammunition Class.

The term "ammunition" means an explosive of any of the foregoing classes when enclosed in any case or contrivance, or otherwise adapted or prepared so as to form a cartridge or charge for small-arms, cannon, or any other weapon, or for blasting, or to form any safety or other fuze for blasting or for shells, or to form any tube for firing explosives, or to form a percussion-cap, a detonator, a fog-signal, a shell, a torpedo, a war-rocket, or other contrivance other than a firework.

The term "percussion-cap" does not include a detonator.

The term "detonator" means a capsule or case which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive of the fulminate-explosive class in such quantity that the explosion of one capsule or case will communicate the explosion to other like capsules or cases.

The term "safety fuze" means a fuze for blasting which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive in such quantity, that the burning of such fuze will not communicate laterally with other like fuzes.

The expression "safety cartridges" means cartridges for small-arms of which the case can be extracted from the small-arm after firing, and which are so closed as to prevent any explosion in one cartridge being communicated to other cartridges. The term also includes rifle-calibre machine-gun cartridges if they are of the above description, whether they are for use with machine-guns having chambers identical with those of rifles or with machine-guns which have special chambers.

The maximum gauge at which a small-arm cartridge can be accepted as "safety" is one inch. The following are the gauges of the machine-gun cartridges which may be accepted as "safety":—

·303-inch cordite.

Martini-Henry rifle, solid case.

·45-inch Gardner, Gatling and Nordenfeldt, except Martini-Henry chambered guns.

·4-inch.

Cartridges of larger gauge are not safety cartridges.

The ammunition class has three divisions.

Division 1 comprises exclusively—

Safety cartridges,

Safety fuzes for blasting,

Fuzes for shells, and tubes friction for guns, provided there be no more than five fuzes or 25 tubes in one package, and that the package be a hermetically sealed metal cylinder.

Railway fog-signals,
Percussion-caps.

Division 2 comprises any ammunition, as before defined, which does not contain its own means of ignition and is not included in division 1, such as—

Cartridges for small-arms, which are not safety cartridges,
 Cartridges and charges for cannon, shells, mines, blasting, or other like purposes,
 Shells and torpedoes containing any explosive,
 Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,
 Fuzes for shells,
 Tubes for firing explosives,
 War-rockets,

which do not contain their own means of ignition.

Division 3 comprises any ammunition, as before defined, which contains its own means of ignition and is not included in division 1, such as—

Detonators,
 Cartridges for small-arms, which are not safety cartridges,
 Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuzes,
 Fuzes for shells,
 Tubes for firing explosives,

which do contain their own means of ignition.

By ammunition containing its own means of ignition is meant ammunition having an arrangement, whether attached to it or forming part of it, which is adapted to explode or fire the same by friction or percussion.

CLASS 7.—Firework Class.

The firework class has two divisions.

Division 1 comprises firework compositions, that is to say, any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation of an explosive or inflammable nature, which is used for the purpose of making manufactured fireworks, and is not included in the former classes of explosives, and also any star and any coloured fire composition, subject to the proviso hereinafter set forth.

Division 2 comprises manufactured fireworks, that is to say, any explosive of any of the foregoing classes and any firework composition, when such explosive or composition is enclosed in any case or contrivance, or is otherwise manufactured so as to form a squib, cracker, toy cap or amorce, serpent, rocket (other than a war-rocket), maroon, lance, wheel, Chinese fire, Roman candle, or other article specially adapted for the production of pyrotechnic effects or pyrotechnic signals or sound signals:

Provided that a substantially constructed and hermetically closed metal case containing not more than 1 lb. of coloured fire composition of such a nature as not to be liable to spontaneous ignition shall be deemed to be a "manufactured firework."

TRANSPORT.

(a) Packing.

2. The following general rules shall be observed with respect to the packing of explosives for conveyance:—

I.—Each class of explosive shall be separately packed.

II.—An explosive, not being an explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class, or of the 2nd and 3rd divisions of the 6th (ammunition) class, or of the 1st division of the 7th (firework) class, shall, if not exceeding 5 lbs. in quantity, be contained in a substantial case, bag, canister, or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosive from escaping.

III.—In every other case the explosive shall be contained in a double package. The inner package shall be a substantial case, bag, canister, or other receptacle made and closed so as to prevent the explosive from escaping, and the outer package shall be a box, barrel, or case of wood or metal or other solid material, and shall be of such strength, construction, and character that it will not be broken or accidentally opened, or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow the explosive to escape :

Provided as follows :—

- (a) If the explosive is of the 1st (or gunpowder) class or of the 2nd (nitrate-mixture) class, or is gun-cotton or another explosive of the 2nd division of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class, the quantity of the explosive in any one outer package shall not, in the case of explosives of the first two classes, exceed 100 lbs., and in other cases 50 lbs.

If the explosive is picric acid, the inner package must be of such a nature as to effectually prevent any picric acid from coming into contact with any basic metallic oxide.*

- (b) If the explosive belongs to the 1st division of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class or to the 4th (chlorate-mixture) class, the inner package shall be without any metal in its construction, and the inner or outer package, or both, shall be thoroughly waterproof.† No one of the inner packages shall contain more than 10 lbs., and the aggregate quantity of the explosive in any one outer package shall not exceed 50 lbs.

- (c)—1. If the explosive belongs to the 5th (fulminate) class, and is of such character that it cannot be packed mixed with water, or that danger would arise from such mode of packing, it shall be packed in such manner as shall be specially directed by the Governor General in Council.

2. Any other explosive of the fulminate class shall be packed as follows : It shall be packed in bags or coverings of calico, canvas, or other material permeable to water, and containing each not more than 25 lbs. of fulminate, and so made and closed as to prevent any explosive from escaping. Such bags or coverings shall be packed in a case containing sufficient water to ensure the explosive being kept constantly wet, and such case (hereinafter called the inner case) shall be packed in an outer case containing sufficient water constantly to surround the inner case ; and the inner case and the outer case shall each be of such strength, construction, and character that it will not be broken or accidentally opened or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow any fulminate or water to escape ; and the amount of the explosive in any one outer case shall not exceed 200 lbs., except with the consent of, and under conditions approved by, an Inspector of Explosives.

3. Every package when actually used for the packing of one fulminate shall not be used for the packing of any other fulminate or for any other purpose.

4. On the outer case there shall be affixed in conspicuous characters by means of a brand or securely attached label or other mark the word "Explosive," with the name of the explosive followed by the words "Fulminate, Division 1" (or 2 as the case may be) and the name and address of the owner or sender.

* Note.—This rule is intended to prevent picric acid being packed in a case lined with certain metals, such as zinc or lead, which would result in danger arising from the formation of a picrate. Waterproof bags inside powder-barrels are suggested as a simple and safe method of packing picric acid for transport or storage.

† Note.—From the requisition that the package should be waterproof are excepted—

(1) All explosives falling in the 2nd division of the 4th (chlorate-mixture) class.

(2) Those explosives, included in the 1st division of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class which do not yield up their nitro-glycerine in contact with water, such as blasting gelatine, gelatine dynamite, cordite and ballistite and gelignite : provided that any other substance than those named has been certified to be of this character by a Chief Inspector of Explosives.

(d)—1. If an explosive belongs to the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class, it shall be contained in a box, barrel, or case of wood, metal, or other solid material, and of such strength, construction, and character that it will not be broken or accidentally opened, or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow any explosive to escape.

2. If the explosive belongs to the 2nd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, the following rules shall apply, viz. :—

(i) A shell or torpedo containing any explosive material, whether such shell or torpedo be separate or form part of a rocket or other appliance, shall be packed in such manner as may be specially directed by the Governor General in Council with reference to such explosive.

(ii) Any explosive material when made up into a cartridge or charge for cannon, shells, mines, blasting, or other like purposes, shall be packed in the manner required for the same explosive material when not so made up:

Provided that where a double package is required, the enclosing case of such cartridge or charge, if it satisfies the conditions required for the inner package, may be held to be such inner package.

(iii) Any other explosive of the 2nd division shall be packed in a box, barrel, or case of wood, metal, or other solid material, and of such strength, construction, and character that it will not be broken or accidentally opened, or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow any explosive to escape: and any one such package shall not contain more than 100 lbs. of ammunition.

(e) If the explosive belongs to the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, it shall be packed in a double package. The inner package shall not contain more than 2 lbs. of such explosive and no more than 50 lbs. shall be contained in the outer package.

(f) If the explosive belongs to the 1st division of the 7th (firework) class, it shall be contained in a double package. The inner package shall be a substantial canister, case, or other receptacle hermetically closed, and containing no more than 1 lb. of explosive, and no more than 20 lbs. shall be contained in the outer package; and,

(g) If the explosive belongs to the 2nd division of the 7th (firework) class, it shall be contained in a box, barrel, or case of wood, metal, or other solid material, and of such strength, construction, and character that it will not be broken or accidentally opened, or become defective or insecure whilst being conveyed, and will not allow any explosive to escape, and the quantity of explosive in any one package shall not exceed 100 lbs.

IV.—Whatever be the amount of the explosive, and to whatever class or division of a class it belongs, the following conditions shall be observed :—

(a) the interior of every package, whether single or double, shall be kept free from grit and otherwise clean;

(b) every package, whether single or double, when actually used for the packing of the explosive, shall not be used for the packing of any other explosive of the same or any other class or for any other purpose, except with the consent of, and under conditions approved by, an Inspector of Explosives;

(c) there shall be any iron or steel in the construction of any such single package or inner or outer package unless the same is effectually covered with tin, zinc, or other suitable material;

(d) on the outermost package there shall be affixed, in conspicuous characters, by means of a brand or securely attached label or mark, the word "Explosive" followed by the name of the explosive or other description of the contents and the name and address of the owners or senders; and

- (e) the amount of the explosive in any single package or, if there is a double package, in any one outer package, shall not exceed the amount specified in the foregoing rules, except with the consent of, and under conditions to be approved by, an Inspector of Explosives or other officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf.

3. Whoever commits a breach of any of the foregoing rules relating to the packing of explosives for conveyance shall be punishable with fine which may extend to Rs. 1,000.*

(b) Mode of conveyance.

4. The following general rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives:—

I.—No explosive shall be conveyed from place to place unless packed in the manner provided for in the foregoing rules.

II.—There shall not be conveyed in any carriage or vessel which is being used for the conveyance of an explosive, any explosive of a different class and division, of whatsoever nature, which contains its own means of ignition, unless it is sufficiently separated therefrom to prevent any fire or explosion which may take place in one such explosive being communicated to another.

III.—Except in the case of small consignments carried by railway, which may be unloaded at any time, explosives shall be loaded or unloaded only between sunrise and sunset. For the purposes of this rule no consignment of more than half a wagon-load booked to one station shall be deemed to be a small consignment.

IV.—Whilst the explosive is being loaded on or unloaded out of any carriage or vessel, no fire or artificial light, nor any article which is liable to cause or communicate fire or explosion [such as charcoal, lucifer-matches, articles for striking a light, petroleum to which the Petroleum Act (XII of 1886) or any other Act for the time being in force regarding the importation, possession, and transport of petroleum, applies, or any spirit or oil or substance that gives forth an inflammable vapour at a temperature below 100° Fahrenheit] shall be, or shall be allowed to be, brought, had or used dangerously near to such carriage, ship, or boat, and no smoking shall be allowed in, on or dangerously near to, the same:

Provided that when the use of a light for the purposes of such loading or unloading is unavoidable, a lamp of such construction, position, or character as not to cause any danger from fire or explosion may be used; and no person, while handling any explosive (except an explosive of division 1, class 6, or an explosive of class 7, if packed in accordance with the packing rules), shall wear boots or shoes with iron or steel nails, heels or tips.

V.—In the loading or unloading of any explosive, the casks and packages containing the same shall be passed from hand to hand and not rolled upon the ground; they shall not be thrown or dropped down, but shall be carefully deposited and stowed.

VI.—The explosive shall not be conveyed except in the interior of a carriage so enclosed on all sides with wood or metal, or in the hold of a ship or boat having a close deck so closed, as effectually to protect the explosive against accident by fire from without. If the explosive cannot be so secured, it shall be completely covered with painted cloth, tarpaulin, or other suitable material so as to effectually protect it against communication of fire.

VII.—There shall not be any iron or steel in the interior of the portion of the carriage or vessel with which the case containing the explosive is in contact, unless the same is effectually covered with leather, wood, cloth, or other suitable material.

VIII.—In the stowing of the explosive, due precautions shall be taken by means of a partition or otherwise and by careful stowing to secure such explosive from being brought into contact with, or endangered by, any other article or substance conveyed in such carriage or vessel which is liable to cause fire or explosion; and if the explosive is dangerously affected by water, due precautions shall be taken to exclude water from coming into contact with such explosive.

IX.—The amount of the explosives conveyed in any one carriage or vessel at any one time shall not exceed 2,000 lbs. unless the carriage be so enclosed on all sides with wood or metal, or the vessel have a close deck so closed, as effectually to protect the explosive against accident by fire from without, in which case the amount of the explosives conveyed shall not exceed the following:—

	Tons.
In any one carriage on a railway	10
In any one other carriage	2
In any one vessel	20

NOTE.—This rule shall, in the case of dynamite conveyed by railway, be read subject to paragraph XII of Rule 6.

X.—Nothing in the foregoing rules (except Rule I) shall apply to any explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class:

Provided that all due precautions are taken for the prevention of accidents.

5. The following rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives otherwise than by railway:—

I.—No explosive shall be conveyed in a carriage or boat whilst carrying or plying for public passengers, unless the quantity is less than 5 lbs. and notice has been given beforehand to the person in charge of such carriage or boat:

Provided that there shall not be conveyed in any such carriage or boat any explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class or any explosive of the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, or of the 1st division of the 3rd (nitro-compound) class, except—

(i) dynamite which may be carried in the form of cartridges up to the limit of 5 lbs.:

Provided that no detonators are carried in the same compartment; and

(ii) detonators to the number of 200:

Provided that the amount of explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class in the detonators shall in no case exceed in the aggregate 3 oz. (a certificate to this effect being given by the Agent of the Company by whom the detonators are tendered for transport):

Provided also that no dynamite is carried in the same compartment.

II.—With respect to the conveyance by carriage or vessel of explosives of the 5th (fulminate) class, or of the 3rd division of the 6th (ammunition) class, or of the 1st division of the 7th (firework) class, or of larger quantities than 5 lbs. of any other explosive, the following regulations shall be observed:—

(1) The person in charge of the carriage or vessel shall not drive or conduct the same in a dangerous or reckless manner, and shall take all due precautions to avoid fire and explosion, and no person shall do any act or thing in relation to the explosive which tends to cause fire or explosion, and is not reasonably necessary for the conveyance of the explosive or for work immediately connected with such conveyance; and a person who is intoxicated shall not have charge of any carriage or vessel conveying explosive, and shall not be permitted to be in, or on, or attending the same.

(2) A person shall not forward to any warehouseman or carrier a consignment of explosive, unless he has given notice to such warehouseman or carrier beforehand, stating the name and quantity of the explosive proposed to be conveyed, and the name and address of the proposed consignee, and has had an intimation that the warehouseman or carrier is prepared to receive the consignment; and a warehouseman or carrier shall not make such an intimation, nor receive such consignment, unless he is prepared to receive it, and forthwith to despatch the same, or to deposit it in a magazine or at a place at which a person is licensed to possess the same.

- (3) The carriage or vessel conveying the explosive shall be in charge of, and constantly attended by, some competent person, or by a sufficient number of competent persons, and such persons shall not, if the amount of the explosive conveyed exceed 100 lbs., stop or delay for a longer time than may be reasonably necessary, or stop unnecessarily at any place where such stopping would be attended with special public danger.

6. The following rules shall be observed with respect to the conveyance of explosives by public railway:—

I.—No person shall send for carriage upon any railway any consignment of an explosive, unless he has given to the officer in charge of the railway station previous notice in writing which, at the option of the Railway Administration, may extend to 48 hours, of his intention to send such consignment, and stating the true name, description, quantity, and mode of packing of the explosive proposed to be conveyed, and his own name and address, and also the name and address of the proposed consignee, and unless he has had an intimation in writing from an authorised officer of the railway that such consignment will be received.

II.—No explosive which a Railway Administration shall, by any notice or regulation for the time being in force, notify that they will not receive, shall be brought, sent, or forwarded to, or upon, any railway of the said Railway Administration.

III.—Consignments of explosives shall be sent to the forwarding station and shall be received by the railway servants only at such times, between sunrise and sunset, as the Railway Administration may appoint; and every package containing any explosive proposed to be conveyed on any railway shall immediately on arrival at the station be unloaded and placed in a safe place under the special direction of the officer in charge of the station.

All gunpowder under despatch or receipt by a Government arsenal, dépôt, or factory, shall be loaded or unloaded in the railway vans by Government servants employed in such arsenal, dépôt, or factory. In each van used by the railway for the transport of gunpowder the packages of gunpowder shall be secured in such a way as to prevent concussion when the train is in motion.

IV.—An explosive shall be removed by the consignee from the receiving station during the twelve hours of daylight after arrival: if this condition is not strictly complied with, the Railway Administration may return the consignment to the consignor at his risk and expense. And such packages shall in the meanwhile be kept as far away from the station buildings as possible, in the wagon they were conveyed in, or, if unloaded, shall be completely covered with tarpaulins or other suitable material, and, if necessary, shall be protected by a police guard.

V.—The Railway Administration may refuse to receive any packages which they suspect to contain any explosive packed or sent in contravention of these regulations. And in case any package, which the Railway Administration suspect, shall be upon any railway, the Railway Administration may open, or require to be opened, such package, to ascertain the fact, at the risk and expense of the consignor, and may return the explosive contained in the package to the consignor at his risk and expense, keeping the packages, pending such return, in the manner prescribed in the preceding rule.

VI.—Subject to the exception provided for in clause (e), no explosive shall be conveyed by passenger-train except of the kinds and in the manner hereinafter specified in this rule:—

(a) Safety cartridges and percussion-caps and safety-fuze (for blasting), also fog-signals for railway use which may be conveyed in ordinary wagons or carriages.

(b) Dynamite which may be carried in the form of cartridges up to the limit of 5 lbs.:

Provided that no detonators are carried in the same compartment.

(c) Detonators which may be carried to the number of 200 :

Provided that in no case the amount of fulminate of mercury in the package or packages containing the detonators exceeds in the aggregate 3 oz. (a certificate to this effect being given by the Company, firm, or person tendering the detonators for transport or by its or his agent) :

Provided also that no dynamite is carried in the same compartment.

(d) Sporting gunpowder or non-safety cartridges packed in double cases as before provided, so long as the gunpowder is contained in one-pound tin canisters packed in a stout wooden case with an outer covering of tin or zinc completely spark-proof, or in metal-lined cases of a pattern approved by the Railway Administration. But no outer case shall contain more than 25 lbs. of gunpowder, and the total consignment of gunpowder or non-safety cartridges by one train shall not exceed 80 lbs.

(e) Explosives may be carried by mixed trains on any line on which goods-trains are not running, subject to the conditions that not more than one vehicle containing explosives is forwarded at any one time by a mixed train; that the precautions prescribed for conveyance by goods trains are observed; and that directly a wagon containing explosives arrives at a section on which goods trains are running, it is detached from the mixed trains.

VII.—Not more than five carriages containing explosives shall be loaded or unloaded at any railway station, or be conveyed by any one train at any one time; and the quantity of explosive to be contained in any one carriage shall not exceed two-thirds of the normal load, unless the carriages shall be specially built and approved of by the Government of India for the conveyance of explosives. But nothing in this clause shall be held to apply to separate consignments of small-arms ammunition.

VIII.—There shall not be conveyed in the same carriage with any explosive any lucifer or other matches, fuzes, pipelights, acids, naphtha, paraffine, petroleum to which the Petroleum Act (XII of 1886), or any other Act for the time being in force regarding the importation, possession, and transport of petroleum, applies, or any other volatile spirit or substance liable to give off an inflammable vapour or liable to spontaneous ignition, or to cause or communicate fire or explosion.

IX.—The consignor shall attach to the consignment note a certificate or (provided the original is produced for verification) copy of a certificate, signed by an officer authorised by the Local Government in this behalf that the explosive, if it is an explosive of class 3 or 4, is of the standard purity; and further, in the case of dynamite, and all nitro-glycerine compounds, that there are no signs of exuded nitro-glycerine or of liquefaction. The consignor shall also certify that the explosive has been packed in accordance with the packing rules in force in England or in British India.

X.—In the case of explosives under classes 3 and 4 the outer packages shall be marked with the date of the manufacture of the explosives. The abovementioned certificate shall contain sufficient information to admit of all packages being easily recognised.

XI.—The certificate referred to in Rule IX shall be valid for six months after date, if the examination has been made between the 15th October and 31st March; but any Railway Administration which accepts dynamite for transport may demand a fresh certificate for dynamite presented for conveyance between 1st April and 15th October (both inclusive).

XII.—Packages containing dynamite shall be stowed in one layer only and secured so as to prevent movement during transit, and the gross load in any one wagon shall not exceed 3 tons :

Provided that, if the packages of dynamite are in rectangular form and are properly secured so as to prevent movement during transit, they may be stowed in any number of layers not exceeding five, and the gross load in any one wagon shall not exceed 5 tons.

XIII.—No explosive belonging to the 5th (fulminate) class or to class VI, division 3, shall be carried in the same train with dynamite, or with any other explosive belonging to class III, division 1.

XIV.—Wagons used for the carriage of explosives shall be examined to see that they are spark-proof, and have been cleaned out before they are loaded. Hair, cloth, hides, or other suitable materials shall be spread on the floor of the wagon and between each layer of packages, except when the packages are covered with gunny or felt, or contain small-arms ammunition packed in tin-lined service-pattern boxes.

XV.—Wagons containing explosives shall be loaded and unloaded on sidings distant as far as possible from the station buildings.

XVI.—Five layers of packages in rectangular form and of uniform size (provided they are double packages, and are so secured as to prevent movement during transit) may be packed one above another. Otherwise not more than three layers of packages containing explosives shall be packed one above another. But in the case of small-arms ammunition packed in tin-lined service-pattern boxes, there is no restriction. Subject to the provisions of Rule 4 (III), the loading and unloading of explosives when once begun shall be diligently proceeded with until the same is completed.

XVII.—When the train is being marshalled, wagons loaded with explosives may be shunted by a locomotive, if they are separated from the engine by not less than three wagons containing no explosive nor easily inflammable substance. This precaution is not necessary with wagons specially constructed for the carriage of explosives. The speed of these movements shall be restricted to 5 miles an hour; they shall be superintended by a duly authorised officer, who shall be held responsible for the observance of these orders. Flying shunts are strictly prohibited.

XVIII.—Wagons containing explosives shall be placed at the end of the train away from the locomotive, and shall be close coupled to one another, as well as to the adjoining wagons, and preceded and followed by three wagons not loaded with explosives or other traffic of an inflammable nature.

XIX.—If the wagons employed in the transport of explosives are provided with brakes, the brakes thereon shall on no account be worked while the wagons are running with a train, nor shall brakes, other than iron brakes, on vehicles immediately adjoining such wagons, be worked while such wagons are so running.

XX.—Wagons shall in every case be locked when loaded with explosives.

XXI.—All operations connected with the transhipment of explosives at junction stations shall take place during daylight.

7. Whoever commits a breach of any of the foregoing rules relating to the mode of conveyance of explosives shall be punishable with a fine which may extend to Rs. 100.

IMPORTATION.

8. An explosive shall not be imported by sea into British India, except under, and in accordance with, the conditions of a license to import the explosive granted under these rules:

Provided that any explosive other than an explosive specified in Rule 11 may, previous to the grant of an importation license, if certified to be of British manufacture or, if not of British manufacture, if imported from the United Kingdom and covered by the certificate granted by one of Her Majesty's Inspectors of Explosives in England, be landed in accordance with such regulations as the Local Government may prescribe in this behalf, and be stored in a place set apart by the Local Government for this purpose. The Governor General in Council may extend this privilege to any such explosive not of British manufacture regarding which he is satisfied that it has been manufactured under adequate official supervision.

Before any explosive is landed under the proviso to this rule, the consignee shall give to the Chief Customs Officer of the Port such undertaking, with or without security, as the said officer thinks sufficient, to obey, in the event of the explosive failing to satisfy the prescribed tests, such directions as to its disposal as the Local Government may see fit to prescribe.

If samples are taken by an officer deputed by the Chief Customs Officer on board the ship on its arrival the procedure shall be that prescribed in Rule 15.

9. Whoever imports an explosive in contravention of Rule 8 shall be punishable with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees.

10. An explosive shall not be imported by sea except at the ports of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Rangoon, Calicut, Karachi, and Aden; but a license to import an explosive by sea from Rangoon into the ports of Akyab, Moulmein, Sandoway, Kyauk-Phyoo, Tavoy, and Mergui may be granted by the Magistrate of the Districts in which these ports are respectively situated. The fee payable in respect of each such license shall be one rupee, and the license shall be in Form A in the Schedule hereto annexed.

11. If the explosive is gunpowder or an explosive of the 1st division of the 6th (ammunition) class or an explosive of the 7th (firework) class, the license to import the same may be granted at the ports of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay by the Commissioner of Police, and at the ports of Rangoon, Calicut, Karachi, and Aden by the District Magistrate.

12. The fee payable in respect of each such license shall be Rs. 10; but, if any explosive imported under a license into a British port is exported thence to another British port named in Rule 10, the necessary license for such re-import may be granted on payment of a fee of one rupee instead of Rs. 10.

13. Licenses for the importation by sea of any explosives other than those specified in Rule 11 shall be granted by the Local Government or by some officer specially authorised by the Local Government in this behalf.

14. No license shall be granted for the importation of any explosive of the description referred to in Rule 13, if it be an explosive for which a test or examination has been prescribed by or under the orders of the Government of India, unless samples of the explosive taken as hereinafter provided are certified by the Chemical Examiner or some other officer appointed by the Local Government in this behalf to have passed the test or examination from time to time prescribed.

15. On the arrival in any port at which the importation of explosives is lawful, of a ship having on board an explosive other than an explosive of the description referred to in Rule 11, such officer as the Chief Customs Officer authorises in this behalf shall, as soon as may be, proceed on board and shall, if testing or examination is requisite under the last preceding rule, obtain samples of the explosive.

All explosives of which samples are taken for examination shall be forthwith deposited in a duly licensed place or places of storage, and shall not be distributed for use until the importer has received from the licensing authority notice that it may be so distributed.

The master of the ship shall give to the said officer, without charge, such samples as he may require. The said officer shall affix to each such sample the name of the ship and of the consignee and such other distinguishing marks as he may think necessary, and shall forward the same to the Chemical Examiner or officer, as aforesaid, for report.

The Chemical Examiner or officer as aforesaid, after testing the said samples, shall without delay forward to the licensing authority, through the Chief Customs Officer, a report under his signature certifying whether the explosive has satisfied the prescribed test.

15-A. Explosives, other than those referred to in Rule 11, which have already undergone the test prescribed by Rules 14 and 15 at the ports of Calcutta, Madras, Bombay, Rangoon, Calicut, Karachi, or Aden, may be re-imported by sea into any other of those ports under a license granted under Rule 13, without re-testing, but subject, in the case of such explosives as are mentioned in Rule 6, Clause IX, to the production of the certificate prescribed in that clause.

Such certificate shall be valid for six months after date, if the examination has been made between the 15th October and 31st March; but in the case of dynamite, a fresh certificate may be demanded if the consignment is imported between the 1st April and 15th October (both inclusive).

16. The period for which a license to import an explosive, granted under Rule 13, shall continue in force shall not exceed such period as may seem necessary to the authority granting the license.

17. The fee payable on a license granted under Rule 13 shall be Rs. 10, but, if any explosive imported under a license into a British port is exported thence to another British port named in Rule 10, the necessary license for such re-import may be granted on payment of a fee of one rupee instead of Rs. 10.

18. Every license granted under Rules 11 and 13 shall be in Form A in the Schedule hereto annexed, and shall be subject to the conditions therein prescribed, and also to such additional conditions with respect to the time and place of unloading, landing, delivery and conveyance of the explosive, and such other conditions as may in each case be thought by the licensing officer to be necessary for the public safety or in the interests of the State.

19. Whoever commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license under Rules 11 and 13 is granted, shall be punishable with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees.

GENERAL.

20. Every license granted under these rules shall be liable to be forfeited on breach of any of the conditions subject to which it is granted.

21. If a person licensed to import an explosive dies or becomes bankrupt or becomes mentally incapable or otherwise disabled, the person carrying on the business of such licensee shall not be liable to any penalty or forfeiture under the Indian Explosives Act (IV of 1884) or the rules thereunder for acting under the license during such reasonable time as may be necessary to allow him to make an application to the authority granting the license for a new license in his own name during the currency of the unexpired portion of the original license. Such new license shall be granted on payment of one rupee.

22. The fees leviable under these rules shall be taken in the shape of impressed stamps. Ordinarily the applications for licenses or renewals of licenses shall, if not otherwise provided, be written on impressed stamps of value equal to the amount of fee leviable in respect of such licenses or renewals, the licenses themselves being issued on plain paper. But when the licenses themselves are written or printed on impressed stamps, the application may be on plain paper. When an application for license is written on an impressed stamp, and the license is refused, the value of the stamp will, on application, be refunded to the applicant.

23. When a license granted in accordance with these rules is lost, or accidentally destroyed, a duplicate may be granted to the licensee on payment of a fee of 8 annas.

24. Any person holding a license, or acting under a license granted in accordance with these rules, shall be bound to produce the same when called upon to do so by any Magistrate, or by any Police officer in charge of a Police station, or by any Police officer of higher rank.

25. All Magistrates or other authorities acting under these rules shall perform their duties subject to the control of their executive superiors and of the Local Government.

26. Any authority empowered to grant a license under the foregoing rules may, if he thinks fit, direct by any order written on the license that it shall have the effect of a like license under the Indian Arms Act (XI of 1878).

27. Any persons lawfully entitled under the Indian Arms Act (XI of 1878), or the rules thereunder, to possess any explosive coming under the head of ammunition, as defined in that Act, may possess or import without license under these rules any such explosive in reasonable quantities for his own private use: but when an explosive is so imported, the Collector of Customs or any other officer empowered by the Local Government in this behalf by name or by virtue of his office may at any time detain such explosive until he receives the orders of the Local Government thereon.

Rule for Testing Explosives.

No. 1394.—With reference to Rule 14 of the Rules to regulate the transport and importation of explosives, published with Home Department Notification No. 1393, dated the 8th July 1897, the Governor General in Council is pleased to make the following Rule on the subject of the tests which explosives should be required to pass before their importation is permitted :

RULE.

Class 1.—Gunpowder class. Gunpowder is not required to pass a test.

Class 2.—Nitrate-mixture class. Nitrate-mixture explosives are not ordinarily required to pass a test. The Local Government, however, or the authorized officer granting the import license under Rule 13 of the Rules to regulate the transport and importation of explosives published with Home Department Notification No. 1393, dated the 8th July 1897, may in any particular case or class of cases require that a sample of the explosive which is to be imported be sent first to the Chemical Examiner for an analysis of its constituent parts.

Class 3.—Nitro-compound class. It is for explosives of this class that testing is chiefly required, in respect to the purity of their composition and their liability to liquefaction or exudation. The tests prescribed for nitro-compound explosives are contained in Schedule A attached to this rule.

Class 4.—Chlorate-mixture class. See Schedule A for remarks regarding the testing of this class^(a).

Class 5.—Fulminate class. No test has been laid down for explosives of the Fulminate class^(a).

Class 6.—Ammunition class. No test is required for explosives of the 1st Division of this class. If the substances of which explosives of the 2nd and 3rd Divisions are composed have to be tested under the preceding rules, they will be equally liable to be tested when enclosed in any case or contrivance and thus falling under the Ammunition class.

Class 7.—Firework class. Explosives of this class are not required to pass a test.

SCHEDULE A.

Heat Test as applied to Explosives of the Nitro-compound Class.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS.

Apparatus required.

1. A water bath, consisting of a spherical glass or copper vessel [(a) Fig. 1] of about 8 inches diameter, and with an aperture of about 5 inches; the bath is filled with water to within a quarter of an inch of the edge. It has a loose cover of sheet copper about 6 inches in diameter (b), and rests on a tripod stand about 14 inches high (c), which is covered with coarse iron wire gauze (e), and is surrounded with a screen of thin sheet tin or copper (d). Within the latter is placed an Argand burner (f), with glass chimney. The cover (b) has four holes arranged as seen in Fig. II, No. 4 to receive the regulator, No. 3 the thermometer, Nos. 1 and 2 the test-tubes containing the gun-cotton or other materials to be tested. Around holes 1 and 2 on the under side of the cover are soldered three pieces of brass wire with points slightly converging (Fig. III); these act as springs and allow the test-tubes to be easily placed in position and removed.

(a) Licenses are not at present given for the importation into British India of any explosives of these classes.

Fig. III.

- 2. Scheibler's or Page's temperature regulator.
- 3. Two cells of Le Clanché's battery No. 1
- 4. A few yards of insulated copper wire } if Scheibler's regulator is used.
- 5. Test tubes from $5\frac{1}{4}$ to $5\frac{1}{2}$ inches long, and of such diameter that they will hold from 20 to 22 cubic centimeters of water when filled to a height of 5 inches.
- 6. India-rubber stoppers, fitting the test-tubes and carrying an arrangement for holding the test-paper, viz., a narrow glass tube passing through the centre of the stopper, drawn out so as to form a hook, or terminating in a platinum wire hook (Fig. IV).
- 7. A thermometer, with range not less than from 30° to 212° Fahrenheit.
- 8. A minute clock.

Materials required.

(a) Test-paper.—The test-paper is prepared as follows:—45 grains of white maize starch (cornflour), previously washed with cold water, are added to $8\frac{1}{2}$ ounces of distilled water, the mixture is stirred, heated to boiling, and kept gently boiling for 10 minutes; 15 grains of pure potassium iodide (i.e., which has been re-crystallized from alcohol) are dissolved in $8\frac{1}{2}$ ounces of distilled water. The two solutions are thoroughly mixed and allowed to get cold. Strips, or sheets, of white English filter paper previously washed with water and re-dried are dipped into the solution thus prepared, and allowed to remain in it for not less than 10 seconds; they are then allowed to drain and dry in a place free from laboratory fumes and dust. The upper and lower margins of the strips, or sheets, are cut off, and the paper is preserved in well-stoppered or cork bottles, and in the dark.† The dimensions of the pieces of test-paper used are about $\frac{1}{10}$ inch by $\frac{1}{10}$ inch (10 mm. by 20 mm.).

* This is not absolutely required, as the temperature of the bath can be kept constant by proper attention to the heating flame.

† When a paper is freshly prepared, and as long as it remains in good condition, a drop of dilute acetic acid put on the paper with a glass rod, produces no coloration. In process of time, however, the stronger the light to which the paper is exposed, the sooner a drop of the acid produces a brown or bluish coloration (a single hour of direct sunlight produces a marked effect), and whenever this is the case, the paper should be rejected. On this account it is advisable not to prepare too much of the test-paper at one time, but to prepare it fresh every month or so.

(b). Standard tint paper.—A solution of caramel in water is made of such concentration that when diluted one hundred times (10 cc. made up to 1 litre) the tint of this diluted solution equals the tint produced by the Nessler test in 100 cc. water containing 0.000075 grm. of ammonia or 0.00023505 grm. of chloride of ammonium. With this caramel solution lines are drawn on strips of white filter paper* by means of a clean quill pen. When the marks thus produced are dry the paper is cut into pieces of the same size as the test-paper previously described, in such a way that each piece has a brown line across it near the middle of its length, and only such strips are preserved in which the brown line has a breadth varying from $\frac{1}{8}$ mm. to 1 mm. ($\frac{1}{80}$ of an inch to $\frac{1}{8}$ of an inch).

I.—Testing Dynamite, Blasting Gelatine, and other Explosives of the First Division of the Nitro-compound class.

A.—DYNAMITE, ETC., ETC.

Nitro-glycerine preparations, from which the nitro-glycerine can be extracted in the manner described below, must satisfy the following test, otherwise they will not be considered as manufactured with “thoroughly purified nitro-glycerine” within the terms of the license.†

Apparatus required.

A funnel 2 inches across (d), a cylindrical measure divided into grains (e). (See sketch.)

Mode of operation.

About 300 to 400 grains of dynamite (b) finely divided are placed into the funnel, which has previously been loosely plugged by some freshly-ignited asbestos (a).

The surface is smoothed by means of a flat-headed glass rod or stopper, and some clean washed and dried Kieselguhr (c) is spread over it to the depth of about $\frac{1}{8}$ inch.

Water is next carefully dropped from a wash bottle upon this Kieselguhr, and when the first portion has been soaked up, more is added; this is repeated until sufficient nitro-glycerine has been collected in the graduated measure (e) below.

If any water should have passed through with the nitro-glycerine, it should be removed with a piece of blotting paper, and the nitro-glycerine, if necessary, filtered through a dry paper filter.

* This paper must be carefully washed with distilled water, in the first instance, to remove any traces of bleaching matter, and dried.

† This test, though at present looked upon as the most important, as far as testing the purity of the nitro-glycerine is concerned, is in England only one of several which any given sample of nitro-glycerine preparation has to satisfy in order to establish its compliance with the definition in the license.

Application of the Test.

The thermometer is fixed so as to be inserted through the lid of the water bath described under I, page 2, into the water (which is to be steadily maintained at a temperature of 160° Fahr.) to a depth of $2\frac{3}{4}$ inches. Fifty grains of nitro-glycerine, to be tested, are weighed into a test-tube in such a way as not to soil the sides of the tube. A test-paper is fixed on the hook of the glass rod so that when inserted into the tube it will be in a vertical position. A sufficient amount of a mixture of half distilled water and half glycerine to moisten the upper half of the paper is now applied to the upper edge of the test-paper, by means of a camel's-hair pencil, the cork carrying the rod and paper is fixed into the test tube and the position of the paper adjusted so that its lower edge is about half-way down the tube; the latter is then inserted through one of the perforations of the cover to such a depth that the lower margin of the moistened part of the paper is about five-eighths of an inch above the surface of the cover. The test is complete when the faint brown line which after a time makes its appearance at the line of boundary between the dry and moist part of the paper equals in tint the brown line of the standard tint paper.

The nitro-glycerine under examination will not be considered as "thoroughly purified" within the terms of the license unless the time necessary to produce the standard tint as above described is at least 15 minutes.

B.—BLASTING GELATINE, GELATINE DYNAMITE, AND ANALOGOUS PREPARATIONS.

Fifty (50) grains of blasting gelatine are to be intimately incorporated with one hundred (100) grains of French chalk.* The mixture is to be gradually introduced into a test-tube of the dimensions prescribed above for the dynamite heat test, with the aid of gentle tapping upon the table, between the introduction of successive portions of the mixture into the tube, so that when the tube contains all the mixture it shall be filled to the extent of $1\frac{3}{4}$ inches (one inch and three-quarters) of its height. The test-paper is then to be inserted and the heat is to be applied in the manner prescribed above for the dynamite heat test, and the sample tested is to withstand exposure to 160° Fahr. for a period of ten (10) minutes, before producing a discoloration of the test-papers corresponding in tint to the standard colour test which is employed for governing the results of the dynamite heat test.

(For Exudation and Liquefaction tests for Blasting Gelatine, etc., etc., see Appendix, p. 7.)

N.B.—Non-gelatinized nitro-glycerine preparations, from which the nitro-glycerine cannot be expelled by water, are tested without any previous separation of the ingredients, the temperature being as above (160° Fahr.) and the time being seven (7) minutes.

C.—CORDITE AND BALLISTITE.

1. Apparatus required.

The apparatus necessary for the application of the heat test to cordite is identical with that described above (see page 2) for explosives of the nitro-compound class generally† with the addition of a mill and a nest of sieves similar to those used at Waltham Abbey for preparing the cordite for testing (see instructions below).

* This can be readily effected by carefully working the two materials together with a wooden pestle in a wooden mortar.

The French chalk should be of good commercial quality, and after being carefully washed with distilled water and dried in a water oven, it should be exposed under a bell jar to moist air until it has taken up about 0.5 per cent. of moisture. It should then be bottled for use; and with ordinary care the limits of 0.5 per cent. can be maintained in keeping.

† In the Waltham Abbey apparatus the cover (Fig. II) has all the holes around the circumference, instead of having one in the centre and three around the circumference.

2. Preparation of the sample to be tested.

Pieces half an inch long are cut from one end of every stick selected for the test; in the case of the thicker cordites, each piece so cut is further subdivided into about four portions. These cut pieces are then passed two or three times through the mill, the first portion of material which passes through being rejected on account of the possible presence of foreign matter from the mill. The ground material is put on the top sieve of the nest of sieves and sifted. That portion which has passed through the top sieve and been stopped by the second is taken for the test. After each sample has been ground, the mill must be taken to pieces and carefully cleaned.

3. Application of the Test.

The thermometer is fixed so as to be inserted through the lid of the water bath, described under I, page 2, so as to be immersed in the water to a depth of $2\frac{3}{4}$ inches. The water is maintained at a constant temperature of 180° Fahr. When this temperature is reached, 25 grains of the sifted cordite are put into one of the test-tubes, and collected at the bottom by gentle tapping. A test-paper is fixed on to the hook of the glass rod, so that when inserted into the tube it will be in a vertical position. A mixture of equal parts of distilled water and pure glycerine (Price's) is now applied to the upper edge of the test-paper by means of a camel's-hair pencil, in sufficient amount to moisten the upper half; the stopper carrying the rod and paper is fixed into the test-tube and the position of the paper adjusted so that its lower edge is about half-way down the tube; the latter is then inserted through one of the perforations of the cover to the same depth as the thermometer. The lower margin of the moistened part of the paper should then be about five-eighths of an inch above the surface of the cover. The test is completed when the faint brown line, which after a time makes its appearance at the margin between the wet and dry portions of the test-paper, equals in depth of tint the brown line drawn on the standard tint paper.

4. The time which elapses between the insertion of the test-tube and the completion of the test must not be less than 15 minutes.

N.B.—In the case of ballistite the treatment is the same, except that when it is in a very finely granulated condition it need not be cut up.

II.—Testing Gun-cotton, Schultze Gunpowder, E. C. Powder, and other Explosives of the 2nd Division of the Nitro-compound Class.

A.—GUN-COTTON, TONITE, ETC., ETC.

Sufficient material to serve for two or more tests is removed from the centre of the cartridge by gentle scraping, and, if necessary, further reduced by rubbing between the fingers.

The fine powder thus produced is spread out in a thin layer upon a paper tray 6 inches by $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches, which is then placed inside a water oven, kept, as nearly as possible, at 120° Fahr.

The wire gauze shelves in the oven should be about 3 inches apart. The sample is allowed to remain at rest for 15 minutes in the oven, the door of which is left wide open.

After the lapse of 15 minutes the tray is removed and exposed to the air of the room for two hours, the sample being at some point within that time rubbed upon the tray with the hand, in order to reduce it to a fine and uniform state of division.

Application of the Test.

The cover of the water bath is fitted with the gas regulator which is inserted through the centre hole (No. 4). The thermometer is fixed into hole No. 3. The water in the bath is then heated to 170° Fahr., and the regulator set to maintain that temperature. Twenty grains of the sample to be tested are weighed out, placed in the test-tube, and gently pressed down until the specimen occupies a space of as nearly as possible $1\frac{5}{8}$ inches in a test-tube of the dimensions specified. A test-paper is affixed to the hook of the glass rod or tube, and moistened by touching the upper edge with a drop of distilled water containing 50 per cent. of Price's glycerine. The quantity of liquid used must be only sufficient to moisten about half of the paper. The cork carrying the rod and test-paper is then fixed into the test-tube, and the latter inserted into the bath to a depth of $2\frac{1}{2}$ inches, measured from the cover, the regulator and thermometer being inserted to the same depth. The test-paper is to be kept near the top of the test-tube, but clear of the cork until the tube has been immersed for about five minutes. A ring of moisture will about this time be deposited upon the sides of the test-tube a little above the cover of the bath; the glass rod must then be lowered until the lower margin of the moistened part of the paper is on a level with the bottom of the ring of moisture in the tube; the paper is now closely watched. The test is complete when a very faint brown coloration makes its appearance at the line of boundary between the dry and moist parts of the paper.

The interval of time between the first insertion of the tube containing the sample of gun-cotton in the water at 170° and the first appearance of discoloration on the paper constitutes the test, and this interval of time must be not less than 10 minutes, or the sample will not be accepted as properly purified.

B.—GELATINIZED GUN-COTTON PREPARATIONS.*

Twenty-five grains introduced into test-tube of the dimensions prescribed for the dynamite heat test, then proceed as for Blasting Gelatine, etc., taking the temperature at 180° Fahr., and the time as 15 minutes.

C.—SCHULTZE POWDER, E. C. POWDER, COLLODION COTTON, ETC., ETC.

Sufficient of the sample, without further mechanical division, is dried in the oven as above, and then exposed for two hours to the air. The test as directed above for Compressed Gun-cotton, etc., is then applied, the minimum duration of test being the same, viz., 10 minutes.

D.—PICRIC ACID.

(1) The material shall contain not more than 0.3 part of mineral or non-combustible matter in 100 parts by weight of the material dried at 160° Fahr.

(2) One hundred parts of the dry material shall not contain more than 0.3 part of total (free and combined) sulphuric acid, of which not more than 0.1 part shall be free sulphuric acid.

(3) Twenty grains of the material shall stand the heat test as laid down for dynamite (see ante, p. 3) for not less than 15 minutes.

E.—AMMONITE, BELLITE, ROBURITE, AND EXPLOSIVES OF SIMILAR COMPOSITION.*

These are required to stand the same heat test as gun-cotton (see ante, p. 5).

III.—Testing Chlorate Mixtures.

No tests have yet been laid down, as at present there are no authorized explosives of this class, but in the event of any being authorized, it would be necessary to require that they should satisfy the heat test laid down for Gun-cotton, and from time to time the degree of sensitiveness to percussion or friction (especially a glancing blow) should be observed.

* If in a compressed form it should be broken up in the same manner as cordite and ballistite.

APPENDIX.

Exudation and Liquefaction Test for blasting Gelatine, Gelatine Dynamite, and Analogous Preparations.

TEST FOR LIQUEFACTION.

A cylinder of blasting gelatine is to be cut from the cartridge to be tested, the length of the cylinder to be about equal to its diameter and the ends being cut flat.

The cylinder is to be placed on end on a flat surface without any wrapper, and secured by a pin passing vertically through its centre.

In this condition the cylinder is to be exposed for one hundred and forty-four (144) consecutive hours (six days and nights) to a temperature ranging from 85° to 90° Fahr. (inclusive), and during such exposure the cylinder shall not diminish in height by more than one-fourth of its original height, and the upper cut surface shall retain its flatness and the sharpness of its edge.

N.B.—If the blasting gelatine and the gelatine dynamite to be tested be not made up in a cylindrical form, the above test is to be applied with the necessary modifications.

TEST FOR LIABILITY TO EXUDATION.

There shall be no separation from the general mass of the blasting gelatine or gelatine dynamite of a substance of less consistency than the bulk of the remaining portion of the materials under any conditions of storage, transport, or use, or when the material is subjected three times in succession to alternate freezing and thawing, or when subjected to the liquefaction test hereinbefore described.

An Act to make provision for the transfer of the Assets, Liabilities, and Management of the Regular Widows' Fund and of the Elders' Widows' Fund to the Secretary of State in Council of India, and for other purposes in relation thereto.

[3RD JUNE, 1897.]

WHEREAS, in the year one thousand eight hundred and twenty, two separate funds, commonly known and herein-after referred to as "the Regular Widows' Fund" and "the Elders' Widows' Fund" respectively, were established for the benefit of the widows and families of persons employed in the home service of the East India Company, which was then considered as divided into two classes, namely, the Regular Home Establishment and the Extra Department:

And whereas upon the establishment of the Regular Widows' Fund the East India Company agreed to grant a contribution of four thousand pounds a year in aid of such fund, and in order to secure the payment thereof placed the sum of one hundred thousand pounds of East India bonds in the hands of the Trustees of such fund, and also agreed to grant a contribution of six hundred pounds a year to such fund upon the condition that so soon after the expiration of forty years from the twenty-fifth day of March one thousand eight hundred and sixteen as the capital of such fund should have attained an amount sufficient to ensure its complete efficiency, the said annual contributions of four thousand pounds and six hundred pounds should cease, and the said sum of one hundred thousand pounds of East India bonds be transferred to the East India Company:

And whereas upon the establishment of the Elders' Widows' Fund the East India Company agreed to grant a contribution of one thousand pounds a year in aid of such fund:

And whereas such annual contributions as aforesaid in aid of the said funds respectively subsequently became payable by the Secretary of State in Council of India:

And whereas for some years after the establishment of the said funds the income thereof respectively was more than sufficient to meet the current liabilities thereof, and the surplus income was accordingly invested and accumulated for the benefit of the said funds respectively:

And whereas in the year one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four it was apprehended that by reason of reductions in the home establishment of the East India Company, consequent upon the Act of the third and fourth William the Fourth, chapter eighty-five, the said funds would prove inadequate to meet the payments provided for by the then existing regulations thereof respectively, and thereupon, at the request of the Trustees of the said funds respectively, it was resolved by the Court of Directors of the East India Company, with the sanction of the Commissioners for the Affairs of India, that the deficiency should be made good by the East India Company as compensation under the seventh section of the said Act, on condition that, if the capital of the said funds and the income thereof from interest and subscriptions should be more than sufficient to provide for the permanent charge of pensions, the excess should be appropriated, so far as it would go, to repay to the East India Company the advances which they might make under that arrangement, together with interest:

And whereas on the seventeenth day of May one thousand eight hundred and sixty the said funds were closed, and since that date no fresh subscribers have been admitted to either of the said funds:

And whereas by an Act passed in the session of the forty-first and forty second years of the reign of Her present Majesty, chapter forty-seven, intituled "An Act to enable the Trustees of the Elders' Widows' Fund to apply the capital of the said fund in aid of income, and for other purposes in relation thereto," the annual contribution in aid of the Elders' Widows' Fund payable by the Secretary of State in Council of India was reduced to five hundred pounds a year as from the thirty-first day of March one thousand eight hundred and seventy-eight, and the Trustees of the said fund were empowered from time to time, until the liabilities of the said fund should be satisfied or the invested capital thereof be exhausted, to raise by sale of sufficient portions of such invested capital such an amount as might be from time to time required in addition to the income of the said fund, to meet the current liabilities thereof; and it was thereby also enacted that any ultimate surplus which might remain in the hands of the Trustees of the said fund, after satisfying all the liabilities thereof, should be transferred and paid to the Secretary of State in Council of India as part of the revenues of India; and that in case the invested capital of the said fund should be exhausted before all the liabilities thereof were satisfied, the Secretary of State in Council of India should from time to time out of the revenues of India pay to the Trustees of the said fund such sums or sum as might be required to make good the deficiency, in accordance with the said resolution of one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four, and to enable the said Trustees from time to time to meet the current liabilities of the said fund:

And whereas the sums contributed under the said resolution of one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four by the East India Company and the Secretary of State in Council of India up to the thirty-first day of March one thousand eight hundred and ninety-six to the Regular Widows' Fund and the Elders' Widows' Fund respectively largely exceed the amount of the invested assets of those funds respectively:

And whereas the Secretary of State in Council of India has lately caused an investigation to be made into the assets and liabilities of the Regular Widows' Fund, and it appears by the report of the actuary employed in such investigation that all the liabilities of the said fund can probably be met, without any further contribution on the part of the Secretary of State in Council of India, by means of the income of the said fund, and the appropriation from time to time of portions of the invested capital thereof:

And whereas it is expedient that provision should be made for the transfer of the assets, liabilities, and management of the Regular Widows' Fund and the Elders' Widows' Fund to the Secretary of State in Council of India, and for the gradual extinction of the invested capital of the said funds with due regard to all existing interests, and for the transfer to the Secretary of State in Council of India, as part of the revenues of India, of the ultimate surplus, if any, of the invested capital of the said funds after answering all the liabilities thereof:

Be it therefore enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

I. From and after the passing of this Act the

The Secretary of State in Council of India to be entitled to and to assume the assets, liabilities, and management of the Regular and the Elders' Widows' Funds.

Powers of Trustees of funds vested in Secretary of State.

there shall vest in the Secretary of State in Council of India all rights, powers, and authorities, discretionary or otherwise, which were prior to the passing of this Act vested in the Trustees of the Regular Widows' Fund and the Elders' Widows' Fund respectively, and subject to the provisions of this Act the Secretary of State in Council of India shall, as far as may be practicable, conform to and adopt the practice

March one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven; and as from that date the said sum of one hundred and twelve thousand and seventy-five pounds one shilling and six pence two and three-quarters per cent. consolidated stock, representing the said sum of one hundred thousand pounds East India bonds, shall form part of the invested capital of the Regular Widows' Fund, and the dividends from time to time payable thereon shall thenceforth form part of the income of the said fund.

6. The Secretary of State in Council of India

Secretary of State empowered to raise by sale of invested capital of the funds sufficient to meet liabilities thereof.

shall from time to time, until the liabilities of the Regular Widows' Fund and the Elders' Widows' Fund respectively are satisfied,

7. Subject to the provisions of this Act, the for the time being of the said funds respectively in the investments in which such capital is now invested; provided that the Secretary of State in Council of India may at any time, and from time to time, sell out all or any part of the said investments or other the investments in which the invested capital of the said funds respectively shall for the time being be invested, and invest the moneys arising thereby in any of the public funds of Great Britain, but not otherwise.

FIELD OPERATIONS.

TOCHI.

No. 773.—The Right Hon'ble the Viceroy and Governor-General in Council directs the publication of the subjoined letter from the Adjutant-General in India, submitting, under the orders of the Commander-in-Chief, reports from Lieutenant-Colonel W. du G. Gray, Commanding the Troops in the Tochi Valley, relating to the attack made by Madda Khels on the Political Officer's Escort at Maizar on the 10th June 1897.

These reports are to be regarded as despatches.

2. The Governor-General in Council entirely concurs with His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief in his appreciation of the gallantry and devotion of the British officers, and of the coolness, bravery and discipline of all ranks when deprived of their leaders and compelled to retire under the most difficult conditions.

The conduct of both officers and men on this trying occasion was worthy of the best traditions of the Punjab Frontier Force, and will add to the high reputation for soldierlike conduct which the force has ever enjoyed.

No. 181-T., "Field Operations—Tochi," dated Simla, the 8th July 1897.

From—The Adjutant-General in India,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Military Department.

I have the honor, by direction of the Commander-in-Chief, to forward the enclosed letters from Lieutenant-Colonel W. du G. Gray, Commanding Tochi Valley Troops, reporting on the attack on the Political Officer's Escort at Maizar on the 10th June 1897.

2. His Excellency feels assured that there can be but one opinion as regards the behaviour of all ranks after the attack commenced. The report describes in graphic language the gallantry and devoted example of the British officers who, though wounded, continued to direct the withdrawal of the force until incapacitated by their injuries; the coolness and heroic conduct of the native officers, non-commissioned officers and men, the determined stand at the garden wall, where those who fell gave their lives to cover the withdrawal of their wounded comrades; and the admirable discipline exhibited in the deliberate and systematic withdrawal of the force, carried out as it was under a heavy fire and under most trying circumstances. These are some of the leading characteristics of the combat, and it is with a deep sense of satisfaction that His Excellency submits this record of a gallant deed of arms, second to none in the annals of the Indian Army.

3. The march performed by the reinforcements from Datta Khel, who traversed a distance of 9 miles in an hour and a half under the burning sun of a June afternoon, shows the stamina and soldierlike spirit of the party and deserves marked commendation.

4. His Excellency desires also to express his hearty concurrence in the remarks made by Lieutenant-Colonel Gray on the valuable assistance rendered to the troops by Mr. Gee, Political Officer, during the retirement.

5. The staunchness and devotion of the whole force, and particularly the excellent conduct of the native officers when thrown on their own resources, are worthy of the highest praise; and, while deploring the loss of so many brave soldiers, it is with a deep sense of admiration and appreciation of their conduct that His Excellency directs the submission of these reports, with a strong recommendation that they may be regarded as despatches and published under the orders of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council.

No. 230, "Disturbances," dated Datta Khel, the 16th June 1897.

From—LIEUTENANT-COLONEL W. DU G. GRAY, Commanding Tochi Valley Troops,

To—The Assistant Adjutant-General, Punjab Frontier Force.

I have the honour to submit the following report on the occurrences of the 10th instant.

2. An escort consisting of 12 sabres, 1st Punjab Cavalry, two guns, No. 6 Bombay Mountain Battery, 200 rifles, 1st Sikhs, and 100 rifles, 1st Punjab

Enclosures.
One sketch map, three casualty lists.

Infantry, under command of Lieutenant-Colonel A. C. Bunny, accompanied Mr. Gee, Political Officer, to one of the Maizar villages. Mr. Gee's object in going there was partly to discuss with the tribesmen the realization of a fine, but mainly to select a site for a levy post.

Each Infantry soldier carried 22 rounds in pouch, and there were altogether 10 boxes of ammunition in reserve.

Captain Browne, R.A., and Lieutenant Cruikshank, R.A., accompanied the guns. Lieutenant Higginson, the 1st Sikhs, and Lieutenant Seton-Browne, the 1st Punjab Infantry, Surgeon-Captain Cassidy, also accompanied the party.

3. Maizar is a group of villages, 12 miles from Datta Khel camp, situated on the right banks of the Shawal and Tochi at the junction of those two rivers and on the Bannu-Ghazni road. It does not appear on the map as Maizar, but there are some names of villages (Khaji Khel, Dilpural, etc.) entered on the site. These names, however, seem to be incorrect. The village by which the treacherous attack began is probably that shewn as Dilpural in the map. On the accompanying sketch map of the scene of the affair, it is marked A.

The road from Datta Khel camp to Maizar passes close to Sheranni.

The sketch map attached is by Lieutenant Seton-Browne, 1st Punjab Infantry, from memory.

4. Maizar was reached at 9-30 A.M. The Malik, who were believed* to be perfectly friendly and loyal, pointed out a spot under some trees, about 100 yards from a Dreplari† village, for the force to halt. (B on sketch map).

* By the Political Officer.

† The Dreplaris are a Madia Khel Section.

It will be seen from the sketch map that there are more villages to the south and east of the halting place at a distance of 200 to 400 yards.

The guns had been placed quite close to a garden of the first mentioned village.

Guards were posted. Arms were not piled by Infantry.

5. Directly after arrival, Mr. Gee, with Captain Browne, R.A., and Lieutenant Higginson, visited Dotoi (a village a few miles further up the Tochi), escorted by the 1st Punjab Cavalry sowars and accompanied by Malik. They returned at 11-30 A.M.

A meal was now provided by the Malik for Mussulman sepoys.

6. About 2 P.M., while the pipers of the 1st Sikhs were playing, a man was observed to wave a sword from the top of a tower of the Dreplari village. This was apparently a pre-concerted signal, as those villagers, who were among the officers and men, cleared off towards the village.

Two shots were now fired from the Dreplari village, the second of which wounded Lieutenant Seton-Browne in the thigh. Firing now commenced from the villages to the south and east, and a hot fire was opened from the Dreplari village (north).

The fire was directed on the British officers, and Colonel Bunny was almost immediately wounded mortally through the stomach while looking for a position to hold, and issuing orders to his men.

There was a large number of men at the gate of the Dreplari village who were firing and were about to charge the guns. On them the guns opened with ease at a range of about a hundred yards.

Captain Browne, R.A., was now wounded in the upper arm by a bullet which severed the artery (this proved fatal); and Lieutenant Cruikshank, R.A., was shot twice in the right arm.

Sixteen rounds per gun had been carried. The shrapnel was fired reversed. The ammunition was very shortly expended.

7. At the commencement of the firing there was a general stampede among the baggage mules, and it was this that caused the very large loss of property that ensued. All the men's great-coats tied up in mule loads, most of the reserve ammunition, 1st Punjab Infantry, drums, mess-plates, etc., mule-gear, pakhsals and many other things had to be abandoned. Immediate withdrawal was imperative, and the mules were not present to be loaded.

8. It seems that the retirement which now commenced under such very trying conditions was carried out with great deliberation and in the most stubborn and gallant manner.

As it began Lieutenant Higginson was shot through the arm, and Surgeon-Captain Cassidy in the knee.

The enemy now appeared on all sides in great force.

All British military officers were now wounded, two of them mortally, yet they all continued to carry out their duties and lead their men. The circumstances must be admitted to have been trying in the extreme for the troops, and their staunchness is worthy of the highest praise. Subadars Narain Singh, 1st Sikhs, Sundar Singh, 1st Punjab Infantry, and Jemadar Sherzad, 1st Sikhs, behaved with the greatest gallantry. Getting together a party of their men they made a most determined stand by the wall of a garden (the point is marked C in the sketch), and from it they covered the first withdrawal, themselves under heavy fire, remaining till the enemy closed with them. Subadar Sundar Singh, 1st Punjab Infantry, was now killed, and by far the greater number of the casualties of the day took place here.

Under cover of this stand the wounded were carried and helped away, and the guns withdrawn, along a lane, to a low Kotal about 300 yards distant, where a fresh position was occupied. The survivors of the party at the garden wall then withdrew.

The retirement was continued by successive units, very deliberately and with complete regularity, positions being held on the ridges stretching from south to north (vide sketch), until the Sheranni plain was reached (about two miles). All this time the enemy was constantly enveloping the flanks. The main road which had been taken in the morning had been abandoned, as it was commanded on both sides, and parties of the enemy were advancing from Sheranni.

Lieutenant Higginson was, during this part of the retirement, again shot in the arm.

Eventually, about 5-30 P.M., a good position was found about a mile from the last of the above-mentioned ridges. Reinforcements began to appear in sight, and the enemy was beaten off.

The fact that the retreat over a distance of three miles occupied 3½ hours shows how stubbornly the enemy was resisted.

9. The number of the enemy at first is estimated at 500, but constant reinforcements during the retirement raised their numbers to probably much over 1,000. They are understood to have lost 90 killed and many wounded.

10. From the Kotal sowars had been sent to camp to call for reinforcements, which reached the force in the last-mentioned position about 6-15 P.M. They consisted of two companies, 1st Sikhs, under Lieutenant de Brett, R.A., accompanied by Lieutenant Stockley, R.E., and brought fresh ammunition. They had covered the distance from camp (9 miles) in less than an hour and a half.

With the ammunition now received the heights around and the village of Sheranni were shelled (the latter at 1,400 yards), with the result that the enemy finally retired, and the village was partially set on fire.

11. The remainder of the withdrawal was unmolested, and the rear-guard reached camp at 12-30 A.M.

12. Some help was given by Khidder Khels, who brought water for the wounded during the retreat; and who, during the following two days, brought in the bodies of all killed, except two which could not be found.*

The bodies so brought in had been horribly mutilated, irrespective of their religion.

13. Colonel Bunny and Captain Browne, R.A., died of their wounds on the road, and their bodies, with that of Lieutenant Cruikshank, R.A., and all the wounded, were brought in with the retirement.

Total casualties.

	Killed.	Wounded.
British officers	3	3
Native "	1	...
Non-commissioned officers and men	22	25

Several mules and horses also killed and wounded.

14. The news reached me at Miran Shah at 11 P.M. on the 10th, and I arrived at Datta Khel, with Surgeon-Captain Ozzard, at 8 A.M. the next morning.

The first matter for consideration was the recovery of the dead left on the field, and the Government and private property. As they were all left on, and close to the scene of the first assault, which could hardly have been reached without much loss (with the available troops), and as the Khidder Khels promised to bring in the bodies, and as there was small chance of finding any of the property still lying there, I was obliged to abandon the idea.

15. A statement of lost property will follow as soon as it can be compiled. It includes 8 rifles (of killed).

16. It has already been said that Colonel Bunny and Captain Browne, R.A., continued to carry on their duties after being mortally wounded, and this they continued to do until the near approach of death stopped them; and it has also been said that Subadar Sundar Singh, 1st Punjab Infantry, was killed while fighting in the most gallant and self-sacrificing manner.

The behaviour of Lieutenants Seton-Browne and Higginson, in leading their men, and, after the death of their seniors, conducting the retreat, though themselves severely wounded, is worthy of high praise.

17. The behaviour of the whole force throughout was splendid, and I propose to bring to notice the very fine conduct of some individuals, without which the account of the event would be incomplete, in a supplementary letter.

18. A list of casualties is attached on Field Service Forms.

DATTA KHEL;
15th June 1897.

W. DU G. GRAY, Lieutenant-Colonel,
Commanding 1st Punjab Infantry.

No. 233, "Disturbances," dated Datta Khol, the 20th June 1897.

From—LIEUTENANT-COLONEL W. DU G. GRAY, Commanding Tochi Valley Troops,
To—The Assistant Adjutant-General, Punjab Frontier Force.

In continuation of my letter No. 230, dated 16th instant, I have the honour to report further on several instances of individual conduct.

2. After the two Royal Artillery officers had fallen, that is almost immediately after the attack began, the gunners continued to fire under the orders of their non-commissioned officers, until their ammunition was expended; in No. 3 Sub-division firing blank by the Havildar's orders when the shells were expended, until the mules were ready. The men serving this gun were—Havildar Nihal Singh, Naick Utam Chand, Gunners Jowala Singh, Chet Singh and Diwan Singh (II). The carriage mule being wounded, Havildar Nihal Singh, Naick Utam Chand and Gunner Jowala Singh carried the gun-carriage to the relief line (about 150 yards). Gunner Chet Singh was wounded in the face when limbering up, and was taken away by Gunner Diwan Singh (II).

In No. 4 Sub-division, although the gun twice turned over backwards, and two lanyards broke, the men continued to fight their gun. They were—Naick Sharaf Ali, Lance-Naick Phulla Khan, Gunner Dulla Khan and Havildar Umar Din (killed). The gun-mule in this Sub-division was wounded just after being limbered up, and threw the gun and bolted. The gun was then carried away by Havildar-Major Muhammad Ismail, Gunner Dulla Khan and Gunner Lakhu as far as the relief line.

Driver Havildar Rudh Singh gave great help in sending back the wounded, and Salutri Kewal dressed Captain Browne's wound under fire. The drivers all behaved excellently, even loading up the great-coats on the relief line mules until ordered by Captain Browne to desist. Those whose mules were shot or broke away all helped other drivers or took their share in carrying the wounded. The Havildar-Major seems to have conducted the retirement of the section in a cool and able manner.

During this first withdrawal Lance-Naick Shah Sowar, 1st Sikhs, behaved with much gallantry, keeping the enemy off with his fire, while he accompanied and helped those carrying Captain Browne, R.A. (who had been wounded).

It is to be remembered that the guns, while being fought as above described, were at a distance of only 100 yards from a threatening enemy, and were under a converging fire from different sides.

3. The stand made at the point C (in the sketch with the previous report) has already been described. This was under the direction of Subadars Sundar Singh, 1st Punjab Infantry,* and Narain Singh, 1st Sikhs. The latter officer, also, with great presence of mind, removed a large quantity of ammunition from the reserve ammunition boxes of his regiment, and rapidly distributed it. Some was also carried away by Bugler Bela Singh, 1st Punjab Infantry. The value of this ammunition to the force cannot be over-estimated; had it not been rescued, it is difficult to think how the enemy could have been kept off at all.

The following men had been sent under heavy fire to fetch away the ammunition boxes by Subadar Narain Singh: Naick Lachman Singh, 1st Sikhs; Sepoy Shiv Singh, 1st Sikhs, who went back twice, and was afterwards twice wounded; Sepoy Isar Singh, 1st Sikhs; Lance-Naick Atar Singh, 1st Sikhs (killed); and Langri Jhanda Singh, 1st Sikhs.

The conduct of Subadar Sundar Singh, 1st Punjab Infantry, at the place where he died was most heroic.

4. At this place (C) many other men also behaved with great heroism. All those who fell there gave their lives to cover the withdrawal of their comrades. Among the survivors Lance-Naick Ishar Singh, 1st Punjab Infantry, fought the enemy hand to hand very gallantly there, killing several with his bayonet, and generally rendering great help; and Bugler Bela Singh, 1st Punjab Infantry, who has been mentioned above, was again conspicuous, fighting bravely and effectively with a rifle he saved from one of the killed, and later in distributing under fire the ammunition which had been saved.

5. During the first withdrawal to the Kotal, Jemadar Sherzad, 1st Sikhs, carried Lieutenant Higginson, wounded, away under a very heavy fire. A little later, taking a rifle and ammunition from a dead sepoy, he covered the retreat of a party (consisting of Havildar Muhammad Bakhsh, Naick Khwaja Muhammad and Sepoy Isar Singh, 1st Sikhs), who were carrying Surgeon-Captain Cassidy, wounded, to the rear. He also carried Surgeon-Captain Cassidy part of the way.

Sepoy Allahyar Khan, 1st Punjab Infantry, carried Lieutenant Seton-Browne, wounded, to the Kotal.

Subadar Nawab Khan, 1st Sikhs, was one of the last to leave the scene of the outrage, and both there, and throughout the subsequent retirement, he worked in a very cool and admirable way.

6. During the general retirement from the Kotal towards the place, where the reinforcements were met, the ability and coolness of Subadar Narain Singh, 1st Sikhs, mentioned above, were of the greatest value. Lance-Naick Assa Singh, 1st Punjab Infantry, did good work in helping Lieutenant Seton-Browne along when the enemy was pressing the retreat.

Sepoy Nurdad, 1st Punjab Infantry, repulsed an attack of a party of the enemy. After shooting down two at a very short distance, he led a successful counter-charge against them, being himself severely wounded.

7. Reference was made in the previous report to the most gallant conduct of the deceased officers—Colonel Bunney, Captain Browne, R.A., and Subadar Sundar Singh. At the time it was written, I was not aware that Lieutenant Cruikshank, R.A., had also behaved in a most conspicuous manner getting up and continuing to fight his guns, after being once shot down, until he was killed by another bullet.

8. The sudden and treacherous way in which the attack began, and the fact that at the very first the men saw all their British officers shot down, make the staunchness and gallantry of the native officers, non-commissioned officers and men, even more praiseworthy than they might otherwise have been.

The indomitable spirit of No. 6 Bombay Mountain Battery is beyond all praise.

9. The conspicuous behaviour of Lieutenants Higginson and Seton-Browne in conducting the retirement, while severely wounded, has been mentioned before.

10. I trust the General Officer Commanding may see fit to recommend these two British officers, and all native officers, non-commissioned officers and men mentioned by name above for a signal reward for their gallantry. And I would also ask permission to submit a list of those killed at the garden wall (the point C), with a view to the recognition of their splendid conduct being extended to their widows or heirs.

11. When the previous report was written the casualties were under-stated. They were as follows:

REWARDS.

ORDER OF MERIT.

No. 785.—The Governor-General in Council is pleased to sanction the admission to the 3rd class of the Order of Merit of the undermentioned native officers and non-commissioned officer in recognition of the conspicuous gallantry and devotion exhibited by them during the attack upon the Political Officer's escort at Maizar on the 10th June 1897:

Subadar Narayan Singh, 1st Sikh Infantry.

Subadar Nawab Khan, 1st Sikh Infantry.

Jemadar Sherzad, 1st Sikh Infantry.

Havildar-Major Muhammad Ismail, No. 6 (Bombay) Mountain Battery.

Subadar Narayan Singh, 1st Sikhs, Subadar Nawab Khan, 1st Sikhs, Subadar Sundar Singh, 1st Punjab Infantry, and Jemadar Sherzad, 1st Sikhs, behaved with the greatest gallantry. Getting together a party of their men they made a most determined stand by the wall of a garden and from it they covered the first withdrawal of the force. Subadar Sundar Singh, 1st Punjab Infantry, was killed at this point, giving his life to cover the withdrawal of his comrades. Under cover of this stand the wounded were carried or helped away and the guns withdrawn.

In addition to the good service mentioned above, Subadar Narayan Singh, 1st Sikhs, removed a large quantity of ammunition from the Reserve Ammunition boxes and rapidly distributed it. The value of this ammunition to the force cannot be overestimated. During the general retirement the ability and coolness which he displayed were of the greatest value.

Subadar Nawab Khan, 1st Sikhs, in addition to displaying conspicuous gallantry at the garden wall as described above, was also one of the last to leave the scene of the outrage, and both there and throughout the subsequent retirement worked in a very cool and admirable way.

Jemadar Sherzad, 1st Sikhs, also performed specially good service. During the first withdrawal of the force he carried Lieutenant Higginson, who was wounded, to a place of safety, and later on, taking a rifle and ammunition from a dead sepoy he covered the retreat of a party who were carrying a wounded officer—Surgeon-Captain Cassidy—to the rear. He also himself carried that officer part of the way.

When both the British officers with the Battery had been incapacitated, Havildar-Major Muhammad Ismail, No. 6 (Bombay) Mountain Battery, continued to fight the guns within 100 yards of a threatening enemy and under converging fire from all sides, until the ammunition was expended. A gun mule having been wounded just after one of the guns was limbered up, threw the gun and bolted. Havildar-Major Muhammad Ismail assisted to carry the gun as far as the relief line, and then conducted the retirement of the Section in a cool and able manner.

The Governor-General in Council is also pleased to notify that had Subadar Sundar Singh, 1st Punjab Infantry, survived, the distinction of the 2nd class of the Order of Merit would have been conferred upon him in consideration of the conspicuous gallantry and heroic devotion to duty on the occasion referred to. His widow is admitted to the pension of the 2nd class of the Order of Merit, with effect from the date of his death.

The interest on the notes of that loan is payable half yearly on the 30th day of June and the 31st day of December; and the notes are not liable to discharge before the 1st day of August 1904.

Tenders.

3. Tenders for the whole or any part of the said amount of Rs. 3,00,00,000 will be received by the Comptroller General from this date to noon of Monday, the 16th August next. Tenders must be for sums of 500 Rupees or multiples of 500 Rupees.

4. Each tender must be addressed, in the form annexed to this Notification, to the Comptroller General, Calcutta, and enclosed in a closed cover, superscribed "Tender for the Three-and-a-half Per Cent. Loan." If the tenderer is not resident in India, he must name an agent resident in India to whom an allotment-certificate may be issued, if any part of the loan is allotted to such tenderer.

NOTE.—Tenders made in accordance with these instructions will also be received by the Accountants General, Madras and Bombay, on account of the Comptroller General, Calcutta, on the 14th August and up to 11-30 or 11 o'clock local time respectively (corresponding with 12 o'clock in Calcutta) on the 16th August; provided that—

(a) they are delivered personally or by clerk or messenger at the Accountant General's Office (where a receipt will be given for them);

(b) they are made on printed Forms, to be obtained at the same office or at the local Presidency Bank;

(c) each tender is for not less than Rs. 10,000;

(d) that the deposit is either a promissory note or a Treasury Receipt from the Head Office of the local Presidency Bank, or a cheque on a local Bank in Madras or Bombay in favour of the Accountant General, Madras or Bombay, respectively;

(e) that the amount of the tender is made payable either in Calcutta, Madras, or Bombay;

and the Accountant General will return deposits on non-accepted tenders, and will issue allotment-certificates so far as the tenders are payable in Madras or Bombay.

5. The rate at which each tender is made must be specified in rupees or rupees and annas: a tender in which no rate is thus specified, but a subscription is offered in some other terms—as, for example, at the recorded minimum, or at some specified percentage in addition to the recorded minimum, or at the average of the accepted tenders—will be rejected as null and void.

6. The rate at which a tender is made must not contain a fraction of an anna: if a rate containing a fraction of an anna is inserted in any tender, such fraction will be struck out and the tender treated as if the rate did not contain such fraction of an anna.

Deposits.

7. Each tender must be accompanied by a deposit of not less than one-hundredth, or, if the tender be for less than Five Lakhs of Rupees, then for not less than one-fiftieth part of the tender. The deposit must be in one of the following forms: (a) a receipt for the amount from the Head Office of the Bank of Bengal, or Madras, or Bombay, or one of their Branches, or from an officer in charge of some Public Treasury, or (b) a cheque drawn in favour of the Comptroller General on a Bank in Calcutta, Madras or Bombay, or (c) Government Promissory Notes¹ standing in the name of or endorsed to the tenderer or the person making the deposit.

¹ It is particularly requested that such Promissory Notes may NOT be endorsed to the Comptroller General.

8. (a) Deposits, not being promissory notes, will, in the case of accepted tenders, be credited proportionally in part payment of the allotment-certificates issued in respect of the tender, and will bear interest for the purpose of clause 16 below from the date of the opening of tenders. When a tender is not accepted in full, the deposits, when they are not in the form of promissory notes, will be credited as far as possible proportionately in even tens of rupees in part payment of the allotment-certificates issued in respect of it. If any allotment-certificate is not fully taken up, the deposit credited in respect of it will be forfeited.

(b) Promissory notes deposited in respect of any accepted tender will be held until all the allotment-certificates issued in respect of the tender are paid up, and will, if the allotment-certificates are not fully taken up, be appropriated by the Government and cancelled.

Opening of Tenders.

9. The Governor General in Council reserves the right to declare, on or before the 9th August, the minimum rate at which tenders will be accepted. If not so declared, the said minimum rate will be recorded under the signature of the Comptroller General, and, before the tenders are opened, placed upon the table in a sealed envelope, but will not be declared unless some tender is rejected only because it is below the recorded minimum.

10. Tenders will be opened publicly by the Comptroller General at the Treasury Buildings, Calcutta, at noon (Calcutta time), on Monday, the 16th August next, and those received under the terms of the note under clause 4 will be similarly opened by the Accountant General, Madras, at 11-30 (Madras time), and by the Accountant General, Bombay, at 11 o'clock (Bombay time) on the same day; but the contents of the tenders will not be disclosed otherwise than as provided in clause 12.

11. Tenders at the minimum rate and at rates above the minimum rate will be accepted in the order of the rates tendered, beginning with the highest rate; the amount allotted at the lowest rate at which tenders are accepted will be divided amongst those who have tendered at this rate in proportion, as nearly as may be found convenient, to the amounts of their tenders; provided that no allotment will be issued if the amount distributable on any tender is less than Rs. 500.

Allotment Certificates.

12. To each tenderer (or to his agent) whose tender is accepted in whole or in part such number of allotment-certificates as may be necessary to make up the aggregate amount allotted to him will be issued by the Comptroller General² as soon as possible after the 16th August; and an alphabetical list of the names of those to whom such allotment-certificates are issued will be posted for general information at the Head Offices of the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay.

² For tenders received by the Accountant General, Madras or Bombay, and payable at those places, the Accountant General will issue the allotment-certificates.

13. If the allotment made on any tender is less than Rs. 3,000, then the whole of the allotment-certificates (after credit of the deposit under clause 8 (a)) will be made payable upon the 28th September.

Otherwise the whole amount of each allotment will be divided into three instalments as follows:

Instalment I.—As near as convenient to 35 per cent., but not exceeding 35 per cent., payable upon the 30th August:

Instalment II.—As near as convenient to 35 per cent., but not exceeding 35 per cent., payable upon the 28th September:

Instalment III.—The balance payable upon the 21st October:

and allotment-certificates will be issued for each instalment separately.

But the whole or any part of any accepted tender may be paid at any time after receipt of the allotment-certificates.

The words "as near as convenient" refer to the necessity for making each instalment an exact multiple of Rs. 500.

14. Any allotment-certificate will, on application to the Comptroller General, be exchanged for an equivalent amount of allotment-certificates of smaller denominations; provided that if any payment (beyond the deposit) is recorded upon the cancelled certificate, it can be taken against, and recorded upon, only one of the certificates issued in exchange.

15. Payment of any allotment-certificate may be made to the account of the Government in the Head Office of the Bank of Bengal or Madras or Bombay, or in any Branch of these Banks, or into any Public Treasury or Treasuries in India which may be named in the tender in respect of which it was issued. Receipts for such payments will be given by the Banks of Bengal, Madras, and Bombay, or their Branches, or by the Officers in charge of the Government Treasuries at which payment is made, by encasement upon the relative certificate.

Issue of Promissory Notes.

16. (a) When any allotment-certificate is fully paid up, the holder will, on presenting it duly receipted at the place where it was paid, obtain from the Public Debt Office, Calcutta, promissory notes of such values as he may desire (each note being in even hundreds and not less than Rs. 500), bearing interest from 31st December 1897, and he will also receive interest at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. per annum from the dates on which he may have made payment till the 30th of December 1897.

(b) Or he may, at his option, by paying interest at the said rate from 30th June 1897 to the dates on which he may have made payment, obtain promissory notes as above, bearing interest from 30th June 1897.

No. 1881.—The following documents regarding quarantine and trade restrictions imposed in foreign countries in consequence of the existence of bubonic plague in India are published for general information:—

Notifications of the Board of Trade.London, July 2, 1897.

The Board of Trade have received, through the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, a copy of a Despatch from Her Majesty's Representative at Rome, enclosing the following Quarantine Notice issued by the Italian Government, vis. :

(Translation.)

Ministry of the Interior.

1897.—Sanitary Maritime Ordinance No. 5.

For the purpose of affording shipping and trade all the facilities consistent with the requirements of the Sanitary Service and particularly for the purpose of avoiding delays in granting free pratique to steamers which, though free from disease, have to undergo medical inspection and disinfection for the sole reason of their coming from a place infected by plague.

Seen the Law of 22nd December, 1888, No. 5849 (3rd Series) for the protection of hygiene and public health.

The Minister of the Interior decrees:

In cases when the owners or masters of steamers coming from Indian Ports specified in the Maritime Sanitary Ordinance of the 1st of May last, and bound for Italy, make a formal application to that effect, a doctor, to be appointed in each case by this Ministry, can be embarked on such steamers at Port Said.

Section 2. The said doctor will be entrusted with the general sanitary surveillance on board the ship during the crossing from Port Said to the Italian ports of destination, and within 24 hours preceding the arrival of the steamer in an Italian port, he is to ascertain that the disinfection of the soiled articles of wearing or domestic apparel has been carried out, and will proceed to a medical examination of all persons on board.

Section 3. It will besides be the doctor's duty to lodge with the Harbour Authorities on arrival of the steamer, a written declaration showing the hygiene and sanitary conditions on board, and suggesting the treatment to be adopted.

Should everything prove to be in good order, the steamer will, as far as the Sanitary formalities are concerned, be admitted to free pratique. Should, however, any abnormal circumstance have been detected, the steamer will, in that case, have to undergo all those measures which are, in respect of the various cases, set forth in the Sanitary Maritime Ordinances now in force.

Section 4. The above-mentioned doctor will be entitled to passage and first class fare on board, free of charge, and his fee, which, in each case, shall be fixed with the approval of this Ministry, will be defrayed by the Masters of the steamers.

Section 5. The dispositions of Sanitary Maritime Ordinance of 8th May last, No. 3, remain unchanged in their substance, as the present Ordinance is meant only to modify the formalities regarding the carrying out of the medical inspection and of the disinfections of such steamers as were constantly in a normal condition from the time of their departure to that of arrival.

The Prefects of the Maritime Provinces and the Harbour Authorities of the Kingdom are charged with the execution of the present Ordinance.

For the Minister,

BERTARELLI.

Letter from Burma, No. 5204-97 E., dated 18th May 1897.

RESOLUTION.—In Government of India, Home Department, Resolution, quoted in the preamble, the Administration of Burma was constituted a Lieutenant-Governorship. In consequence of this change it is considered desirable to transfer the existing Public Works Department Engineer Establishment, Burma, from the Local Administration List, which, for purposes of promotion, is under the Government of India, to a separate Provincial List under the control of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor of Burma. The Governor General in Council is pleased to direct that this transfer shall take effect from the 1st May 1897.

2. In Government of India, Public Works Department, Resolution No. 595 G., dated 3rd March 1897, the number 130 was fixed as the cadre number on which the scale should be calculated for the regulation of promotion of Executive and Assistant Engineers attached to the Local Administration List. In consequence of the separation of the Burma Engineer establishment from the Local Administration List into a separate Provincial List, as ordered above, it has become necessary to fix a Cadre number and limiting scale for that Province and to modify that fixed for the Local Administration List.

The Governor General in Council is pleased to order that the following shall be the Cadre numbers and limiting scales for the two lists, with effect from the 1st May 1897, and pending further orders:

Burma ...	70	17	11	7	14	10	11
Local Administrations	60	15	9	6	12	9	9

The orders of Government in regard to promotions, as quoted in Public Works Resolution No. 595 G., dated 3rd March 1897, and in the previous Resolutions quoted therein, apply wholly to all promotions made against the scales now authorised. Paragraph 3 of the above quoted Resolution also applies.

ORDER.—Ordered that the above Resolution be circulated to the Local Gov-

To the 2nd Class with the title of "Bahadur."

No. 785 of 1897, the Governor General in Council is pleased to sanction the admission to the 3rd class of the Order of Merit of the undermentioned native non-commissioned officers and soldiers in recognition of the conspicuous gallantry and devotion exhibited by them during the attack on the Political Officer's escort at Maizar on the 10th June 1897:

No. 6 (Bombay) Mountain Battery.

No. 328, HAVILDAR NIHAL SINGH.—Commanded his sub-section with great coolness, firing blank cartridge when the supply of shell was exhausted, so as to induce the enemy to think the gun was still in action, and helped to carry the carriage back to the relief line.

No. 2458, NAICK SHARAF ALI.—Kept his gun in action under great difficulties. The gun and carriage twice turned over backwards and twice the lanyard broke, but he continued to load and fire after getting a spare lanyard from Havildar Nihal Singh.

No. 576, SALUTRI KEWAL.—Helped to carry Captain J. F. Browne, R.A., out of action and dressed his wound under a heavy fire.

No. 473, DRIVER HAVILDAR RUK SINGH.—Carried the body of Lieutenant F. A. Cruickshank, R.A., out of action, and gave great assistance in sending the wounded to the rear and saddling up the mules under fire.

No. 2479, GUNNER JAWALA SINGH.—Helped to carry the carriage of No. 3 sub-division to the relief line, and then returned to help in carrying Lieutenant Cruickshank's body.

No. 2531, GUNNER DIWAN SINGH.—After finishing his duties in limbering up, picked up Gunner Chet Singh, who was lying stunned and carried him out of action.

NO. 4287, SEPOY (LANCE-NAICK) JALANDHAR.

These three men brought Colonel Bunny when mortally wounded out of action under a very heavy fire.

NO. 4031, HAVILDAR MAHOMED BAKSH.

NO. 4353, SEPOY (LANCE-NAICK) KHOJA MAHOMED.

NO. 170, SEPOY ISAR SINGH.

NO. 4118, NAICK LACHMAN SINGH.—Was in charge of the reserve ammunition which was stacked in the valley when the firing commenced. Though under heavy fire he remained by the boxes, opening two ready for issue, and subsequently helped to carry the reserve ammunition away.

NO. 4918, SEPOY SHEO SINGH.—Helped to bring away the reserve ammunition, returning twice under a heavy fire, each time bringing away a box. He was subsequently twice wounded.

The action of these men in bringing away the reserve ammunition enabled fire to be kept up throughout the retirement, and probably was the means of enabling the escort to secure their retreat.

NO. 3900, SEPOY (LANCE-NAICK) SHAH SOWAR.—Helped to carry Captain J. F. Browne, R.A., out of action when wounded, and kept off some Waziris, who came close up, by his steady firing. He then again helped to carry Captain Browne when the enemy fell back.

NO. 4292, SEPOY (LANCE-NAICK) SUNDAR SINGH.—Helped to bring Lieutenant Higginson out of action, when wounded, under a heavy fire, and remained with him the rest of the day, taking him back from the entrance of the lane to the kotal under a heavy fire.

NO. 4545, SEPOY ALLAYAR KHAN.—Carried Lieutenant Seton Browne when wounded to the kotal where the second stand was made.

NO. 173, NAICK ASSA SINGH.—Helped Lieutenant Seton Browne along during the subsequent retirement, though they were hard pressed by the enemy and under heavy fire. Without his aid Lieutenant Seton Browne could not have played the part he did in the conduct of the retirement.

NO. 774, SEPOY NURDAD.—Shot down several of the enemy at very close quarters, and subsequently led a gallant countercharge against them, repulsing them, but being himself very severely wounded.

2. Simla, the 13th August, 1897.

No. 1669.—The following letter from Her Majesty the Queen, Empress of India, published in the Supplement to the London Gazette, dated the 16th July 1897, is republished for general information:

Whitehall, July 16, 1897.

The following letter from The Queen has been received by the Right Honourable the Secretary of State for the Home Department:

Windsor Castle, July 15, 1897.

I have frequently expressed my personal feelings to my people, and though on this memorable occasion, there have been many official expressions of my deep sense of the unbounded loyalty evinced, I cannot rest satisfied without personally giving utterance to these sentiments.

It is difficult for me on this occasion to say how truly touched and grateful I am, for the spontaneous and universal outburst of loyal attachment and real affection which I have experienced on the completion of the Sixtieth year of my Reign.

During my progress through London on the 22nd of June, this great enthusiasm was shown in the most striking manner, and can never be effaced from my heart.

It is indeed deeply gratifying after so many years of labour and anxiety for the good of my beloved Country to find that my exertions have been appreciated, throughout my vast Empire.

In weal and woe I have ever had the true sympathy of all my people, which has been warmly reciprocated by myself.

It has given me unbounded pleasure to see so many of my Subjects from all parts of the World assembled here, and to find them joining in the acclamations of loyal devotion to myself, and I would wish to thank them all from the depth of my grateful heart.

I shall ever pray God to bless them and to enable me still to discharge my duties for their welfare as long as life lasts.

VICTORIA, R.I.

No. 1668.—The following correspondence with the Government of Bengal on the subject of the recent riots at Calcutta is published for general information.

No. 4113-J., dated Calcutta, the 28th July 1897.

From—C. W. BOLTON, Esq., C.S.I., Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department.

I am directed to submit, for the information of His Excellency the Governor-General in Council, a copy of the report received from the Commissioner of Police on the riots which occurred at Chitpur and in the northern parts of Calcutta on the 30th June and 1st instant, in connection with the delivery of possession to the Tagore Estate, in execution of a decree, of a piece of land at Talla containing a hut which was alleged to be a mosque. Mr. James having had for several days after the suppression of the riots to give constant attention to arrangements to guard against a renewal of disturbances, and having since been engaged with the criminal prosecutions which have been instituted, was unable to prepare the report earlier. Information has in the meantime been conveyed to the Government of India by telegram and unofficially. The report now submitted by the Commissioner of Police furnishes a connected account of the origin of the riots, of the riots themselves, of the measures taken to suppress them, and of the subsequent events, and it is not necessary to reproduce these details in the present letter.

2. I am to say that when these riots occurred the Tour Office was at Darjeeling, arrangements having been already made for its return to Calcutta on the 6th July, and that His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor was on a tour of inspection in the famine districts of Bihar. On receipt of telegraphic information of the riots, the Chief Secretary left Darjeeling at once for Calcutta, which he reached on the forenoon of the 3rd, and His Honour also returned to Calcutta, arriving on the morning of the 5th. Both the Commissioner of Police and the Deputy Commissioner possess the powers of a Magistrate of the first class in Calcutta, and on the Commissioner of Police rests the duty of suppressing disorder in the town. He is empowered as a Magistrate to invite the assistance of military force, should it be needed, for the purpose of dispersing an unlawful assembly.

3. The Commissioner of Police has furnished particulars of the litigation in regard to the land at Talla, and has explained his action on being called upon to render police assistance to the Civil Court in giving possession to the decree-holder. He appears to the Lieutenant-Governor to have acted rightly in giving such assistance, after he had twice sent for the tenant Himmat Khan, and the latter had promised to obey the order of the Civil Court and to remove the hut. It will be observed that Himmat Khan actually commenced removing the tiles from the hut, but was dissuaded from completing the demolition by others. Mr. James states that he had no reason to anticipate opposition to the removal of the hut, that there was, in fact, no preparation for resistance, and that it was only after possession was given to the decree-holder that Himmat Khan and his friends were advised by others to retake possession of the land. The Lieutenant-Governor believes that the idea of resuming possession was, as stated, the result of the evil advice of others, and that but for such advice, possession would have been left peacefully with the Tagore Estate. It will be in the recollection of the Government of India that a similar disturbance in regard to a plot of land at Shambazar, alleged to contain a mosque, occurred some years ago. I am to invite reference to the letters No. 39-J.D., dated the 23rd May, and No. 2696-J., dated the 11th July 1891, which reported on the case. In that case also the building was a tiled hut, standing on land held by a tenant-at-will, and a decree was given by the Civil Court for ejectment, the tenant being directed to remove the hut within 15 days. The riot occurred on the day on which that term expired. Although steps had not been taken for placing the decree-holder in possession, the Muhammadans assembled to prevent the anticipated demolition of the hut, and a violent attack was made on the police, who did not succeed in dispersing the mob until after some delay and the arrival of reinforcements. A constable and one of the rioters died of their injuries, and many of the police and the rioters received serious injuries. It appears that some Hindu bad characters also took part in the riot. A considerable number of the rioters were arrested and prosecuted, but the trial failed at the Sessions through the unsatisfactory nature of the evidence of identification. The land was purchased from the owner a few days after the riot for the erection of a mosque. The fact that possession of the land was thus obtained by the Muhammadans in consequence of the riot appears to have been a strong incentive to the attempt made to regain possession of the land at Talla on the present occasion. It was doubtless thought that a re-entry by force would eventually result in the restoration of the land to the tenant and his friends.

4. A compromise for the surrender of the land was, in fact, stated to have been agreed to by Maharaja Sir Jotendra Mohan Tagore, and a leaflet announcing it was issued by the persons named in paragraph 16 of Mr. James' report. The compromise was, however, promptly repudiated by the Maharaja, and the Lieutenant-Governor considers that any such concession to men who had acted in flagrant disobedience of the law and caused a serious disturbance of the public peace would have been entirely inadmissible. His Honour refused to countenance any compromise under the circumstances of the case. It would have implied a surrender to mob violence and greatly encouraged a repetition of similar lawlessness in the future. It is doubtless the case that the mass of those who took part in the riots were influenced by religious sentiment, but many among the rioters had no interest whatever in the religious question and were animated solely by the desire of causing disorder. The religious sentiment was also shown immediately after the riots to have been misguided. It was admitted by those who had issued the leaflet announcing the compromise that there could not be a mosque on the land in dispute, and that it was not a proper place for prayer. A mosque, as they explained in the second leaflet issued by them on the 7th July, can be built only on land dedicated for the purpose, and not on land in temporary occupation which the owner refuses the use of for public devotion. There was thus, in reality, no excuse or justification whatever even for those who took part in the riots from religious feelings. Any concession to them would, therefore, have been entirely unwarranted as well as mischievous.

5. It will be observed that, with the exception of the incident in Wellington Square, mentioned in paragraph 11 of the report of the Commissioner of Police, the riots were confined to the northern portion of the town. No disturbance was attempted in any other part. On the 2nd July four men interfered in Old Court House Street with a constable who was taking a message to the Telegraph Office, and were convicted and sentenced to four months' rigorous imprisonment each. Some uneasiness was felt by the Police lest the Muhammadan operatives of the Lower Hooghly Jute Mills at Garden Reach should join the rioters, but the men refrained from doing so. The only Mill-hands who took part in the riots appear to have been some of the men employed at one or two Mills at Sealdah. As explained in paragraph 13 of Mr. James' report, a large number of men employed in Mills north of Barrackpore intended to come to Calcutta, but were turned back without difficulty by the military. They returned on the next day to work and showed no further desire to leave for Calcutta. At the Mills south of Barrackpore and along the Hooghly and Howrah bank of the river, the hands are reported to have made no movement, and to have kept to their work.

throughout. South of Calcutta also, save at the Lower Hooghly Jute Mills, the operatives remained quiet. Nevertheless it was thought desirable to take every precaution against any possible entry of Mill-hands in large numbers into the town, and military and police were stationed at different places on both sides of the river for some time after the riots. On the withdrawal of the troops, detachments of military police were sent to all points where it seemed advisable to have a guard for some time longer, and they are retained there for the present. The men actually concerned in the riots are stated by the Commissioner of Police to have been mostly low class Muhammadan weavers and brick-layers and the bad characters of the disturbed area. There is no doubt that many were concerned in the Shambazar riot, and it is probably these men who were most active in the resistance to the police, in the obstruction of traffic, and in the attacks on private individuals. In both cases the riots were got up by people of the same neighbourhood, and many of the bad characters, Hindu and Muhammadan, joined those who were undoubtedly moved by religious feeling. It will be seen that on the present occasion the telephone wires were twice cut at Baliaghatta on the 1st July, as reported by the Deputy Commissioner of Police. A young Jew named Cohen is under trial for having cut the wire on the night of the 30th June in the Harrison Road, and there may possibly have been some connection between that case and the two others at Baliaghatta. The attacks made on Europeans in the streets of the disturbed area were a very deplorable incident of the disturbances. They are explained to some extent by the intense excitement prevailing, and were perhaps chiefly committed by the bad characters, who took advantage of the excitement to molest respectable persons using the public thoroughfares. The Lieutenant-Governor much regrets that injuries should have thus been caused in the disturbances to private individuals, who had done nothing whatever to provoke such treatment. It will be seen that no firearms were used by the rioters, that no looting was committed, and that no attack was made on private houses, whether European or Native. The Commissioner of Police has furnished a list of the prosecutions arising out of the riots. The most important are those now pending before Mr. Wheeler, the Joint Magistrate of Alipore. He has been specially deputed for the trial of these cases, and the prosecution is conducted by Counsel under the instructions of the Legal Remembrancer.

6. As observed by the Commissioner of Police in paragraph 11 of his report, the disturbances lasted from dawn of the 30th June to 3 P.M. of the 1st July, or for about 36 hours. The Lieutenant-Governor has carefully considered the measures taken by the Commissioner of Police during this interval, with the view of satisfying himself whether quiet might not have been restored earlier by the use of firearms in dispersing the first unlawful assemblies. It will be seen that the police had no difficulty in dispersing the mob on the morning of the 30th June, actually arresting 74 of the men on that occasion. When, again, the attack was made on the Talla Pumping Station during the day, the rioters were dispersed before the arrival of the Commissioner of Police. Neither then nor in the morning would the use of firearms have been justifiable. On the other hand, the police appear to have been compelled to use their carbines on the next day at Baliaghatta, as the mob refused to disperse and made attacks on them. The Lieutenant-Governor considers that the Commissioner of Police acted with judgment and due regard to the law in abstaining from the use of firearms so long as the mobs could be dispersed without recourse to firing. The loss of life which has actually occurred is very regrettable, but it would have been far larger if the police had not acted with commendable moderation in dispersing the rioters.

7. The leaflets which have been issued explaining that there could be no mosque on the disputed land were useful in putting an end to the excitement among the lower class Muhammadans. The Hon'ble Sahibzada Muhammad Bakhtiyar Shah and the other gentlemen mentioned by the Commissioner of Police in paragraphs 20, 21 and 23 of his report did useful service in issuing the circulars. The clear declaration of these gentlemen as to the impossibility of having a mosque on land which is not specially dedicated or is not held in perpetuity is of great value, not only in reference to the present case but as likely to facilitate the disposal of other disputes which may now exist or hereafter arise in regard to huts used for worship without the authority of the owners of the sites. It appears to have become a common practice for Muhammadan tenants of the lower classes in the suburbs of Calcutta to erect such huts, and there has thus existed for many years past a constant danger of disturbances such as have just occurred and as occurred at Shambazar in 1891. The Commissioner of Police will be desired to report any pending disputes with a view to their settlement, and he will in future inform the Government of every new dispute before taking any action.

8. The Lieutenant-Governor considered the question of quartering special police in the disturbed parts of the town at the expense of the Muhammadan inhabitants under Act V of 1861. The Act is, however, held by the Advocate General and the Legal Remembrancer not to apply to Calcutta and its suburbs, for which there are special Police Acts, and action under it was not, therefore, possible. A copy of the joint opinion of the Law officers is annexed. Mr. Stevens thinks that it would be desirable to remove the anomaly by which the Government is exceptionally debarred from using this resource in the particular area named. At the same time he is not prepared to say that in this particular case he would have considered it judicious to take such action, even if it had been legally open to him. On the one hand there would have been much danger of punishing the well-disposed together with the turbulent, and, on the other, it would probably have been impossible to reach the one class whose participation in the riots had no possible excuse, namely, the miscellaneous bad characters who had no interest in the original cause of excitement. The question whether the permanent police force of the town should be strengthened will be considered. The Lieutenant-Governor further proposes to appoint a small committee, on which the Mill owners will be represented, for the purpose of considering the same question in regard to the police force maintained along the banks of the river. The operatives at the Mills are very numerous and are easily excited by evil advice, and it is desirable that the police force should be adequate at all times to suppress promptly any riotous outbreak.

9. The Lieutenant-Governor desires to acknowledge the great readiness with which Lieutenant-Colonel Wilford, who was in temporary command of the district, acceded to the requests of the Commissioner of Police and of the Local Government for military aid, and the promptitude with which the troops were despatched to the places at which their presence was desired. The conduct of the detachments was throughout exemplary. Although those sent to the scene of the riots were fortunately not required actively to assist in dispersing the rioters, their presence considerably strengthened the hands of the police. The Lieutenant-Governor appreciates also the alacrity with which the Volunteers offered their services.

10. In conclusion I am to say that Mr. Stevens desires to express his full approval of the action of the Commissioner of Police and his subordinates throughout these serious and alarming disturbances. Mr. James had not been in charge of his appointment one month when he was called upon by the Civil Court to render police assistance for the delivery of possession of the disputed land. It seems to the Lieutenant-Governor that he took sufficient care to satisfy himself as to the possibility of a disturbance by sending for the tenant, Himmat Khan, and that, after receiving the man's promise to obey the decree and remove the hut himself, he was justified in assuming that there would be no real resistance to the process of the Civil Court. When the disturbances commenced, and while they lasted, he appears to have made the best use of his police, while seeking the aid of the military, and to have taken firm but judicious action in dispersing the mobs. The Lieutenant-Governor regrets that some of the police should have received serious injuries in suppressing the riots.

No. 7084, dated Calcutta, the 22nd July 1897.

From—A. H. JAMES, Esq., Commissioner of Police, Calcutta,

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

With reference to your letter No. 3733 of the 10th instant, I have the honour to submit a full report of the facts connected with the recent Talla riot.

I think it desirable to first give a short history of the land and the case which led up to the riot.

2. It appears that the land in question is a small plot, thirteen chitaks in area, forming portion of a large plot, two bighas in area, which belongs to the estate of the late Hon'ble P. C. Tagore, C.S.I. This estate was the subject-matter of the well-known suit of Tagore versus Tagore, and the Maharaja Bahadur Sir Jotindra Mohan Tagore, K.C.S.I., has been declared entitled to a life interest, the reversionary interest therein being now vested in a Company in England known as the Tagore Estates, Limited. The estate has been, since about the year 1872, in the hands and management of a Receiver appointed by an order of the High Court made in the suit above mentioned, and the powers of the Receiver are regulated and defined by that order. The present Receiver has held the office since the year 1888. The plot of land in question, i.e., the whole two bighas, had been let out for many years to a man called Arman Goldar at a rental of at first Rs. 51, and later Rs. 57 per annum. The terms of the lease under which he from time to time held authorised him, amongst other provisions, to raise huts on the land, and provided that on the expiration of his term he should have no right in the land, and that he should not allow any encroachment thereon by anybody. Arman Goldar himself had from about the year 1872 occupied a hut on the very spot which has been the subject of the late dispute. His hut was a common thatched one, and two of its walls were the boundary walls of the property. On the 9th December 1893, a suit was instituted by the Receiver against this tenant, Arman Goldar, in the Court of the Munsif of Sealdah, for non-payment of his rent for the purpose of ejecting him from the land. Arman Goldar did not defend the suit, and an ex-parte decree was obtained against him on the 18th January 1894. An order for the execution of the decree was made on the 4th May 1894, and Arman Goldar was ejected from the land on the 8th June 1894, possession of which was obtained by the estate on that date, including the thatched hut in which the tenant, Arman Goldar, had been residing up to that time. No suggestion of any musjid being on this plot, or that the thatched hut was a musjid, was ever heard of by any one up to this time.

3. On the 29th December 1894, a letter was addressed to the Receiver by the Secretary to the Cossipore and Chitpore Municipality, in which it was stated that "Himmat Khan, a tenant of the land belonging to the above-mentioned estate, has applied for permission to construct a culvert with parapets between the road and his tenanted land in front of a tiled hut musjid, which has lately been considerably improved," and the letter required the Receiver as the landlord to make a formal application in regard to this request. This was the first occasion that the Receiver had heard of this man, and on enquiries being instituted, it was discovered that he had, without any notice to anyone, or any permission at all, taken possession about two months previously of the thatched hut, which had been the residence of Arman Goldar, that he had removed the thatched roof of the hut and had substituted for it a tiled roof, and had made some small additions to the old walls. He was at once called upon to quit, but refused to do so. A suit was thereupon instituted against him in the Court of the First Munsif of Sealdah on the 11th February 1895. He appeared to the suit, and filed a written statement. He appeared at the hearing and called evidence on his own behalf, but a decree was obtained against him on the 19th July 1895. (A copy of the decree is annexed.) He appealed from that decision to the District Judge of the 24-Parganas, but he never appeared further in the proceedings, and on the 17th September 1896 his appeal was dismissed with costs ex-parte. On the 16th April 1897 an application for execution of the decree was made to the First Munsif. On the 19th May 1897 an application was made to that Court, asking that police assistance should be obtained when possession was being made over, and a similar application was made on the 17th June 1897. Various dates were fixed by the Court for the execution proceedings, viz., the 26th May 1897, 24th June 1897, and the last order required possession to be made over to the Receiver before the 1st July 1897, and directed police assistance.

4. On the 18th ultimo, copy of an order, dated 17th idem, was received by me from the First Munsif of Sealdah, requesting that assistance might be rendered in carrying out the Court's order for the ejectment of the defendant, Himmat Khan, from the disputed land, and making over possession to the plaintiff, the Receiver of the estate. On receipt of this, I sent for Himmat Khan and explained to him the Court's order, which he promised to obey. On the 25th June I received a letter from the Receiver, informing me that the Civil Court authorities would come on the 28th June to deliver possession, in accordance with the decree No. 155, dated 19th July 1895, and, as a pretence had been made that the hut was a masjid, he apprehended resistance from the side of the defendant and his friends, so he asked for police assistance. I again sent for Himmat Khan and four of his friends, who came and saw me on the morning of the 28th, when I explained to them the order of the Court. These men promised to remove the hut themselves, and on returning to their homes did actually remove a portion of the tiles from the roof, when they were advised by their neighbours and friends to desist, as I learnt subsequently after possession had been given. I had no reason to believe that there would be opposition to the removal of the hut by the Muhammadans of the neighbourhood, as the man stated that he was prepared to pull down the hut himself, and as a fact no preparation was made to offer resistance, and there is no doubt that the idea of taking possession again was an after-thought put into Himmat Khan and his friends' heads by people next day. However, as the Receiver apprehended there might be some opposition, I deputed the Deputy Commissioner with a body of police officers and men to proceed to the spot and in their presence the Court peons put the Receiver's people in possession of the land after the latter had removed the hut. There was a collection of the villagers in and about the disputed land, but no resistance of any sort was offered. During the whole of Tuesday I received no intimation of any intended disturbance.

5. At about 10 P.M. on Tuesday, the 29th ultimo, I received information from the Superintendent of the Division that a number of Muhammadans were assembled at Talla, apparently with the intention of rebuilding the hut. I directed him to find out more definitely the real object of these men. Later on, at about 1-30 A.M., on the morning of the 30th ultimo, I received another message from the Superintendent to the effect that more than 2,000 people had assembled in and about the disputed land, that they had entirely stopped the traffic on the public road, and that they were holding the Talla Bridge and molesting people. On receipt of this information, I telephoned for the reserve force to turn out, and directed the Superintendents of the Divisions to proceed at once to Ultadanga with the available men they could collect. On arrival at Lall Bazar from my house, I received further information that the rioters were increasing in numbers, so deemed it advisable to ask the Fort authorities to send 50 men of the Gloucestershire Regiment, in case their assistance would be needed. I also telephoned to the Magistrate of the 24-Parganas, as well as informed the Sealdah Deputy Magistrate of the unlawful assembly in their jurisdiction. The Magistrate of the 24-Parganas came out with me to Ultadanga, where I found the Deputy Commissioner and the Deputy Magistrate of Sealdah, with a strong force of Police. A little before daybreak I started with the police force for the scene of the disturbance, which was about half a mile off. On my way I met the 50 men of the Gloucestershire Regiment with their officers at Talla Bridge, who followed us to the top of the Railway over-bridge on the Barrackpore Road. On arriving within 150 yards of the rioters I halted and sent forward two Muhammadan officers to direct the rioters to disperse, and if they would not do so, to call some of the leaders of the mob. They returned with a man named Sobrati, whom I directed to go back and tell the rioters that, if they did not disperse quietly within five minutes, they would be made to do so by force. He practically refused to obey, and when he got back to the rioters, it was evident they meant to resist, for after hearing what their leader had to say, the whole crowd commenced to cry out "Ali Ali" and "Din Din" and brandish their sticks. After the five minutes were up, the Police were ordered to advance, and in a very short time had closed with the rioters, when there was a short mêlée, after which the rioters fled, leaving a number of prisoners in the hands of the police. The prisoners were then collected and put in a line on the road, and their names recorded with those of the arresting officers. The total number arrested was 74. I left a guard of 25 men with a European Inspector, which I considered sufficient, as I did not anticipate any further disturbance, the rioters having completely dispersed, and a number of arrests having been made. I then returned to head-quarters, leaving Mr. Paget, the Deputy Commissioner, to see the prisoners escorted to the station and hospital, as several of them were slightly wounded.

6. At about mid-day, the rioters returned in great numbers, when the Police guard went inside the pumping station. The mob attacked the station, and threw brickbats at the inmates. They then attempted to scale the walls, when the Inspector fired a couple of charges of snipe shot into them, and the rioters fell back. In the attack, some of the police in the pumping station were hurt, but none of the rioters were seriously injured. Hearing of this attack, I again requisitioned assistance from the Fort authorities, as it was understood that greater resistance would be offered, and then started with the Deputy Commissioner for Talla, where all available men had been sent ahead; but, on arrival, found that Superintendent Merriman, who had been sent via Chitpore, had just dispersed the rioters, making five arrests. The rioters, in this instance, made some resistance, but were soon dispersed. I remained at Talla till past 5 P.M., when everything appeared quiet, but apprehending that there might be further disturbance during the night, I reinforced the Police guard at the pumping station. While the Deputy Commissioner and myself were driving in a dog-cart, stones were thrown at us by men gathered on the road-side, at the corner of Gas Street, on the Circular Road. Shortly after, a party of 80 constables, with their officers, also returning from Talla to their stations, were attacked by a mob in Machooa Bazar Street, and, after a sharp encounter, the Police dispersed them.

7. Shortly after my return to head-quarters, I received information that a couple of officers of the Gloucestershire Regiment, while riding their bicycles on Upper Circular Road, had been attacked, and several passers-by had stones and brickbats thrown at them. It became clear that the Talla rioters had shifted their scene of operation from Talla to the Machooa Bazar section of the town. In view of this, I requested Colonel Willford, of the Gloucestershire Regiment, to order two Companies of his Regiment, and the troop of Bengal Cavalry from Alipore out, to help the Police in keeping order in the above portion of the town. Major Eddis also offered the services of the Calcutta Light Horse, who turned out and patrolled the Harrison Road for a couple of hours.

8. During the night of the 30th June, up to 3-30 A.M. of the 1st July, the middle portion of the Harrison Road, as shown in the map, herewith attached, was the scene of disorder. Both Christians and Hindus, whether on foot or in conveyances, were insulted and stoned. The road was cleared three or four times by the Police, who had to fire a few shots, but the rioters collected again in some other spot. They pulled down the old wooden lamp-posts and set fire to them. They also rolled out the big drainpipes, which were along the side, into the middle of the road, which effectually stopped wheel traffic.

9. About 3-30 A.M., having received information that there was still rioting going on, I went out with a half company of the Gloucestershire Regiment that was kept in reserve at Lall Bazar, and marched with them via Chitpore Road to Harrison Road, up that road to Halliday Street, and returned by Machooa Bazar Street, but met with no resistance, nor saw any rioters about. In fact, everything had become suddenly quiet. As the day advanced, I received a report about 9 A.M. from the Northern Division Suburbs that the Police had been attacked at Raja Bazar, and that the Superintendent apprehended an attack at Belliaghatta thana. I, therefore, sent out a body of European constables, armed with carbines and buck-shot, under the Deputy Commissioner, to Belliaghatta, while at the same time measures were taken to keep the disturbers of the peace well in hand in the parts of the town where they had been during the previous night.

10. The Deputy Commissioner, on his way to Belliaghatta, found the rioters assembled in great force in Gas Street. They at once attacked him and his men by throwing stones and brickbats at them. He was, therefore, obliged to fire on them before he could disperse them, and get on to his destination, from where he applied for a reinforcement, and, on his way back, he was again attacked at the same place, but soon drove the rioters off. This was practically the last attempt the rioters made to resist the Police, for by 3 P.M. there was not a sign of a rioter in the town or suburbs. (I attach a copy of Mr. Paget's report.) Throughout the disturbance there was no occasion to call upon the Military to fire, and the Calcutta Light Horse also did not make use of their arms.

11. From the above it will be seen that the possession of the land under dispute was peacefully taken over by the owners on the afternoon of the 28th June; that for 30 hours there was no disturbance or signs of a disturbance; that from dawn of the 30th to 3 P.M. of 1st July, there was more or less rioting going on at Talla and in the Machooa Bazar section of the town, which eventually had to be put down by the Police, by the use of fire arms, and that everything has been quiet since. There was no disturbance in Belliaghatta, or any other part of the town, except the following case. On the north side of Wellington Square, a number of Muhammadans, on Wednesday night, assaulted the beat constable and stopped a gharry, the occupant of which fired a shot, which mortally wounded one of his assailants. The gharry-driver and the person who fired the shot have not been discovered. A Police patrol came up next moment, and the crowd fled in all directions. The wounded man was removed to hospital, but died just as he got there. A Coroner's inquest has been held, and the Jury found the following verdict:

"The deceased was shot in a riot, by some unknown person, in self-defence, which was a justifiable homicide."

12. The rioters were composed mostly of low-class Muhammadan weavers and bricklayers, who were joined by the bad characters of the disturbed area. The rioters' chief object of attack was the Police, but several Europeans were assaulted in the streets. The exact number of Europeans has not been obtained, but from all accounts, the number would be about a dozen, of whom three or four were badly hurt. There were no attacks on European houses or, as far as is known, on native houses either. There was no looting in the town or suburbs.

13. On the 6th July information was received that a large number of Mill-hands had collected above Barrackpore and were coming down to Calcutta, and it was also rumoured that the Howrah and Garden Reach Mill hands intended joining the Calcutta rioters.

Precautions were accordingly taken to prevent the Mill-hands from entering Calcutta. Police and a few of the Military were sent out from Barrackpore to turn back the Mill-hands, which there was no difficulty in doing. A Company of the Native Regiment in Fort William was stationed at Howrah, and two other Companies deputed, one to Serampore and the other to Hooghly, while a Company of the Munster Fusiliers was brought in from Dum-Dum and stationed at the Talla pumping station. At the same time two Companies of the Native Regiment at Alipore were warned to be in readiness. The Mill-hands did not, however, move except above Barrackpore, and the Company of the Munsters was withdrawn on the 12th, and the Companies of Native Infantry on the 15th.

14. After the riots had been quelled, Hazi Nur Mahomed, Syud Shamsul Huda, Syud Mahomed Tahir and Hazi Abdul Razaq, accompanied by two Bengalis, one of whom gave his name as Jogendra Nath Sen, called at the Police office at about 7 P.M. on the 1st July, and interviewed me and informed me that Maharaja Sir Jotindra Mohan Tagore had agreed to make a free gift of the disputed land to the Muhammadans, and had sent for them by Jogendra Nath Sen, the agent of the Maharaja. Hazi Nur Mahomed informed me that a circular to this effect would be issued the following morning. On this I said that I had no interest in the case, and so long as there was no disturbance of the public peace, they were at liberty to do what they liked.

15. These people left me saying they were going to see the Maharaja Bahadur. I have since ascertained that they did not see Sir Jotindra Mohan Tagore, but saw his brother, Sir Sourendra Mohan Tagore, who expressed his anxiety to settle the dispute at all cost, and gave the Muhammadan gentlemen to understand that he had his brother's permission to settle this affair amicably. The Muhammadan gentlemen wanted to see the Maharaja, but were told that it was rather late to see him that night, but they could accept Sir Sourendra Mohan Tagore's words for his brother. Acting upon this assurance the Muhammadan gentlemen issued their first circular.

16. On the morning of 2nd July, this leaflet was issued. It was signed by—

- | | |
|--------------------------------|------------------------|
| (1) Hazi Nur Mahomed Zakeriah. | (5) Hazi Rahim Buksh. |
| (2) Hazi Mahomed Abdul Razaq. | (6) Mirza Mahomed Ali. |
| (3) Syud Shamsul Huda. | (7) Mahomed Tahir. |
| (4) Shaik Buksh Elahi. | |

The substance of this circular was to the effect that Maharaja Sir Jotindra Mohan Tagore had graciously given them the land, so the Muhammadans should thank the Maharaja, and that the Muhammadans should not act against the law. "Be it also known to the public," it said, "that God helping, the Talla mosque will soon be a pukka building."

17. After issuing this circular, the same Muhammadan gentlemen called on Maharaja Bahadur Sir Jotindra Mohan Tagore, and were told that he could not agree to give up his interest in the disputed land, and that the matter was a public question and it did not rest with him.

18. On Wednesday, the 7th July, another leaflet was issued by—

- | | |
|------------------------|-------------------------|
| (1) Hazi Nur Mahomed. | (4) Shaik Buksh Elahi. |
| (2) Hazi Abdul Razaq. | (5) Hazi Rahim Buksh. |
| (3) Syud Shamsul Huda. | (6) Syud Mahomed Tahir. |

This circular was to the following effect:—"That the Maharaja's brother, Sir Sourendra Mohan Tagore, promised to give away the land for building a mosque, and under his permission a notice was issued, but it now appears that the Maharaja has only a life interest in the property, and the land actually belongs to a syndicate in England. So we are very sorry that the Maharaja cannot give the land. Unless a land is wakf, no mosque could be built on it, and by praying there, one cannot derive the benefit of having prayed in a mosque. No mosque could be built on another's land by force or prayer offered thereon. This is forbidden in the holy books. So we advise the Muhammadans of Chitpore to build a mosque on some other land, after purchasing it, so that the God may be pleased, &c."

19. On Thursday, the 8th July, a Hindi edition of the second leaflet was issued, which, with a covering letter in English, was sent to the Managers of the Mills for distribution.

20. On Thursday, the 8th July, the Calcutta Muhammadan Literary Society, under the signatures of—

Maulvi Abdul Hai.	Shams-ul-ulama,
" Belyat Hossain	"
" Ahmed	"
" Mahomed Hatim, Emam of Colootolla mosque,
Mr. A. F. M. Abdar Rahman, issued a circular, which explained that if a house is built on another's land for offering prayers, it is wrong to look upon it as a mosque; that therefore the disputed land at Talla is not a consecrated ground, and the building upon it not a mosque, and that the Muhammadans should not quarrel and fight with the authorities over this land.

21. On the same day Sahebzada Bukhtear Shah and four others issued a circular, which also said that the disputed land was not consecrated, and the hut upon it was not a mosque, and suggested that a new mosque should be built near the place after purchasing the land.

22. On Wednesday, the 14th July, Sahebzada Bukhtear Shah and others issued another circular, that the Emams of the Calcutta mosques and the readers of the Khutbas should explain to their congregations that the Talla mosque affair was bringing discredit on the Muhammadans, and advise the people to desist from all quarrels over the disputed land.

23. On Wednesday, the 14th July, Maulvi Syud Mahomed Malee, Mahomed Hakim, Mahomed Ismile, and Belyet Hossain issued a "Fatua" to the effect that no one can build a mosque on another's land, that no mosque can be built on land which is not wakf, and that if a landlord objects, the Friday prayers cannot be offered on his land.

24. Himmat Khan, who caused all this disturbance, was found trespassing on the land that had been under dispute, and was brought before me on the 7th July. On my explaining to him his illegal action, and that it was out of the question his ever getting the land to build a mosque on, he volunteered to remove all traces of the so-called mosque, which he did the same day with his own hands. He has since been particular to see that no Muhammadan goes near the place or stops in front of it for a moment.

25. During the riots 34 Police officers and men received injuries and were sent to hospital. The Police Surgeon reports that most of the cases were of a slight character and were soon discharged, that 12 cases were of a severe nature, and the men would be in hospital for some time.

26. From all information received the number of rioters killed may be put down at 11, i.e., six whose bodies were disposed of by the Police after usual enquiries, and some five who were taken away wounded by their relations to their homes, where they died, and their bodies were disposed of quietly by their own people. It is difficult to form an idea of the number of the rioters wounded. The number wounded by gun-shots may, however, be estimated at about 20. Besides these, a considerable number no doubt received injuries from the sticks used by the Police in dispersing the different gatherings.

GENERAL REMARKS.

27. The following prosecutions have been instituted:

CASE NO. 1573-B.—SUBURBS.

Empress versus (1) Shaik Mozaffar and 73 others, arrested at 5 A.M. at Talla on 30th June 1897.

CASE NO. 1597-B.—SUBURBS.

Empress versus (2) Alladin Mehter and 4 others, arrested at 2 P.M. at Talla on 30th June 1897.

CASE NO. 2775-B.—SUBURBS.

The three above cases are being tried by the Special Joint Magistrate deputed to try them.

CASE NO. 2233-L.—TOWN—OF 2ND JULY 1897.

Sowar Ramadin Doobay, R. F., versus Noor Hossain and three others, arrested on Old Court House Street for assaulting complainant while conveying a message to the Telegraph Office. Case tried by the Presidency Magistrate, and all accused sentenced to four months' rigorous imprisonment on the 3rd instant.

28. It may be well to state that no fire-arms were used until it became absolutely necessary. In the early part of the disturbance the Police found little or no difficulty in dispersing the rioters with their sticks, and it was only when the rioters broke up into strong bands with the object, it is believed, to attack the police-stations and do other mischief that extreme measures had to be resorted to.

29. In conclusion I would beg to bring to notice the prompt answer to my call for assistance to the military authorities, and I have no doubt that a full report of the action taken by them has been submitted by Colonel Wilford, who was then in command of the troops. As to the conduct of the Police, I think it would be invidious to single out individuals for special mention, seeing that every member of the force employed did excellent work without murmur. The whole force of the town were practically on duty from 2 A.M. of the 30th June to the morning of the 2nd July, with but short intervals to procure food. My thanks are due to Mr. E. M. Showers, Personal Assistant to the Inspector-General, who rendered me assistance in my office on the 1st July.

Report of Deputy Commissioner's action on the 1st of July.

Yesterday morning (July 1st), at 10 o'clock, information was received at the Police office that a large number of rioters were reported to be moving towards Belliaghatta police-station, from the town and from Raja Bazar, with the object of attacking the station. Under orders from the Commissioner, I started immediately for Belliaghatta with a party of 12 European constables. We went via Bow Bazar and Circular Road. On arrival at the Gas Street and Machhooa Bazar crossing, we came on numbers of rioters armed with latties, who proceeded to throw stones at us and obstructed us. I saw an immense number of men coming in one direction from Machhooa Bazar and from Upper Circular Road. There were rioters between us and the Belliaghatta bridge and in Raja Bazar. Warning was given to the mob to disperse, but it was evident they had no intention of doing so, for they at once commenced closing in on us and throwing stones. To protect ourselves, immediate action was necessary, so I ordered the police to open fire on them. Those in the line of fire quickly dispersed. We then went into the lanes of Raja Bazar with a view to making some arrests. For this purpose we separated into three parties. I saw soon afterwards a most determined attack on one party, notwithstanding that they were firing on the mob. The men were struck with bricks and had to fall back. I went to their assistance with the remainder of the men. We dispersed the rioters that were on the spot, and proceeded to Belliaghatta police-station. I telephoned at once for a small party of soldiers to the Commissioner at head-quarters. Immediately afterwards the telephone wires were cut. These were repaired soon after by the Telephone Company, but were again cut, and communication was stopped for the rest of the day. At 12 noon Lieutenant Rawson of the Gloucestershire Regiment arrived, bringing with him six files of soldiers. They came in two of Messrs. Hart Brothers' brakes. I put the Police into the front brake and with some of the Military in the second one. We started for the Union Jute Mills at Sealdah, it having been reported that the Mill-hands had struck work and threatened to assault the European employes. On arrival at the Circular Road and Machhooa Bazar crossing, where we had dispersed the mob in the first instance, we drove into some telegraph or railing wires which had been securely fastened from tree to tree across the road. The horses in the front brake were nearly thrown down, and at the same time stones were showered at us from behind the surrounding houses. Some of our men were struck with stones. The Police and the Military then fell in; the Police went forward and dispersed the rioters. We then drove south as far as Sealdah station. Stones were thrown at us from the lanes leading into Circular Road on the town side. There were women and children in these lanes, so it was not safe to fire, and we moved on to Union Jute Mills, where we found everything quiet. We then returned by the Canal Road to Belliaghatta police-station, halted there till 3 P.M., then returned to police head-quarters, via Gas Street, Circular Road and Bow Bazar. On this occasion we were not molested, and I saw no signs of rioters. In fact there were very few Muhammadans among the passers by. The Circular Road and Gas Street crossing was the spot where Lieutenants Gardener and Grey and later the Commissioner and myself were stoned by the mob on the previous day. No shots were fired by the Military, nor were they called on to disperse the rioters at any stage of the proceedings. Two arrests were made in Raja Bazar: one of the men arrested had been wounded; the latter was carrying a heavy latti.

CALCUTTA,
The 2nd July 1897.

H. E. C. PAGET,
Deputy Commissioner of Police.

DISTRICT 24-PARGANAS.

IN THE COURT OF THE 1ST MUNSIF AT SEALDAH.

The 19th day of July 1895.

Title Suit No. 155 of 1895.

A. M. Dunne, Receiver to the Estate of Hon'ble Prosonno Kumar Tagore Plaintiff, against

Himmat Khan and others Defendants.

This is a suit for khas possession of the land in suit after demolishing the house that stands thereupon. The plaintiff states his case as follows:

One Arman Golder was a tenant under the estate, of which he is the Receiver of a plot of land situate at Tallā. A decree for eviction was then obtained against Arman, and the Receiver of the estate then got khas possession of the land in suit. The plaintiff has come to learn on the 29th December 1894 that the defendants have trespassed upon the land in suit and have raised a tiled house for the purpose of worshipping their God without the knowledge or permission of the plaintiff, and hence this suit. The defendants in their written statement allege, inter alia, that the land in suit does not belong to the said estate, that the mosque in question is a place of public worship for more than 20 years, and the suit in its present form is not maintainable; that the Muhammadan community worshipped their God in this mosque without any objection on the part of any one for more than 20 years, that the plaintiff's claim is barred by limitation, and that the wall referred to in this plaint belongs to the mosque.

The following are the issues fixed by my predecessor for determination in this suit:

1. If this claim is barred by limitation.
2. If the defendants' house has been erected upon plaintiff's land, or has otherwise encroached thereon or on its boundary walls.
3. If the said house has stood where it now stands for upwards of 20 years and been used as a place of public worship by the Muhammadan community with the knowledge of, and without any objection by, the plaintiff.
4. If the wall is attached to the plaintiff's land or to defendants' house.
5. If the suit in its present form is maintainable.

JUDGMENT.

The plaintiff does not admit that the defendants are his tenants, or that the mosque in question is a place of public worship for more than 12 years. I see no objection to the form in which the present suit has been instituted. This issue is decided in favour of the plaintiff.

2nd and 4th issues.—These two issues I shall try together. I went to the spot for local investigation, and found the northern wall of the hut, in dispute, to be a part of the northern boundary wall of the lands of the plaintiff situate in that quarter. In fact, some of the witnesses of the defendants admit that this wall runs towards the west, forming the boundary wall on the north side of the lands of the plaintiff. From local investigation and from evidence adduced, there is no room for doubt as to the northern walls being attached to the plaintiff's land. It appears that a leaf hut was at first raised on the identical plot of land, and the northern wall of this hut was a part of the northern wall, denoting the northern boundary of the lands of the plaintiff in that place, and no change has been effected in this wall at least since then. There is satisfactory evidence in this case, both documentary and oral, to show that the land in suit belongs to the plaintiff. Arman Golder's tenancy under the plaintiff has also been proved. That the house in question has been raised on the land of the plaintiff has been clearly proved by him. At first the lower portions of the western and southern walls were brick-built, and the upper parts made of mud. There is evidence to show that Himmat Khan, the defendant No. 1, has built the upper parts of the brick after Arman's death, and this Himmat is a mason by profession. The evidence by Mr. Blair shows that the present tiled house stands exactly on the same spot whereon the leaf house of Arman stood; these two issues must be found in favour of the plaintiff.

3rd issue.—The defendants have failed to prove that the mosque in question is a place of public worship for the Muhammadan community for more than 12 years. The evidence on both sides point to the death of Arman as taking place some 15 or 18 months ago. That it was a place of public worship during his lifetime has not been satisfactorily proved. Mr. Blair, who lives in the neighbourhood and whose testimony I have no reason to disbelieve, deposes that he never saw the Muhammadan community worship their God in it before the present tiled house came into existence. The oral evidence adduced by the defendants is conflicting and discrepant. Some persons living in distant quarters have been examined to show that they worshipped in this hut at times. That the testimony of these witnesses does not support each other and cannot be relied upon. None of these witnesses has paid any money for the purpose of raising the house. The plaintiff has produced certain municipal papers to prove that the house in question is not a place of public worship for a considerable time. The evidence in this case proves that the leaf house was raised up by Arman, and Arman used to live in this hut. It appears that Arman grew zealously religious during the latter part of his life, and it is most likely that he used this hut for his private worship. Certain signs of the worship attached to the western wall (the steps and the cooped-out space) might have been made by Arman for his private use. These do not appear to have been intended for the public, for when in my presence a Muhammadan stood upon the steps (which they call the member) they went down at once. It appears to me that, as Arman was a man of some influence in his class, persons of that class used to go to him now and then. They might have worshipped their God in the hut at the time of their visits, but this fact, accepting it to be proved, does not establish the defendants' case. Arman died without heirs, and the decree for eviction was already passed against him. The plaintiff also proves that his predecessor got khas possession under that decree, so on the death of Arman, the defendant No. 1, Himmat, who lived for some time with Arman, contrived with some other Muhammadans to convert the house of Arman into a place of public worship, without any permission from, or knowledge of, the plaintiff. Most of those who have been examined by the defendants cannot say who raised the leaf house, or what function is discharged by the defendant No. 1 in the mosque. I hold, therefore, that the disputed hut was not a place of public worship in the lifetime of Arman, who died some 15 or 18 months ago. There are many pukka masjids near the place, and there was no occasion for having one at the place in question. I also hold that the defendants have trespassed upon the plaintiff's land and have raised a tiled hut thereon, as a place of public worship, without any authority, only a year ago. This issue is decided against two defendants.

1st issue.—As the plaintiff took his khas possession in 1894, before which year his tenant, Arman, occupied the land in suit, there is no limitation against him. The suit is not barred by limitation, and this issue is decided in favour of the plaintiff.

It is ordered, therefore, that the suit be decreed with costs, that the plaintiff do get possession of the land in suit, and that the defendants must pull down the house in dispute and take the material thereof within six months from the date of the decree; otherwise the plaintiff will pull down the same at the cost of the defendants. The northern wall and the lower parts of the western and southern walls of the house in suit will not be pulled down by the defendants.

OPINION.

I am of opinion that Act V of 1861, as amended by Act VIII of 1895, has no application to the Suburbs of the Town of Calcutta, which were excluded by a notification issued under section I of Act II (B.C.) of 1866. Act V of 1861 no doubt applied to the Suburbs of the Town of Calcutta so excluded until the publication of the notification when the Police Force of the Suburbs of the Town of Calcutta so excluded came under section III of Act II (B.C.) of 1866 under the exclusive direction and control of the Commissioner of Police for the Town of Calcutta. It also appears that Act V of 1861 was applied to the Town of Calcutta, for section III of Act XIII of 1856 appoints a Commissioner of Police for the Town of Calcutta as defined by that Act, and section IV of Act V of 1861 vests the administration of the police throughout a General Police District in the Inspector-General of Police, &c.; the General Police District at the passing of that Act included the Suburbs of the Town of Calcutta. Such being the case, the only question which remains to be considered resolves itself into this; does the substitution of a new section for section 15 of Act V of 1861 by section 4 of Act VIII of 1895 make any difference, i.e., does the new section apply to the Suburbs of the Town of Calcutta excluded by notification from the operation of Act V of 1861? At first sight it would appear that the words of paragraphs (1) and (2) of the new section 15 were wide enough to cover the case of the Suburbs of the Town of Calcutta, but a reference to the history of the legislation previous to the passing of Act VIII of 1895 will show why the words "any area subject to its authority" in section 15 (1) of the new section and the words "or other officer authorized by the Local Government" in section 15 (2) of the new section were used. When the Bill No. 15 of 1894 was introduced in the Council of the Governor-General of India in the new section, which it was proposed to substitute for section 15 of Act V of 1861 by section 4 of the Bill, we find the words "to be quartered in any part of the General Police District, &c., &c.," and that "the cost, &c., shall be borne, &c., &c., (a) by the inhabitants of, &c., &c., the local area described in the notification or both, or" (see the Gazette of India, Part V, 20th October 1894). When we refer to the Bill as amended by the Select Committee in the new section, clauses (1) and (2), which it was proposed to substitute for section 15 of Act V of 1861 by section 4 of that Bill, we find instead of the words "in any part of the general district" the words "any area subject to its authority." There is no reason given for this change in paragraph 5 of the Report of the Select Committee (see Gazette of India, Part V, 16th February 1895), and it would appear that it was simply changed by the Select Committee so as to keep the language of clauses (1), (2) and (3) of the new section 15 uniform, and not to use different expressions as were used in the new section 15 proposed to be substituted by section 4 of the Bill No. 15 of 1894. As to the words "or other officer authorised by the Local Government" in section 15 (2) substituted by section 4 of Act VIII of 1895, a reference to the Debates in Council when the Report of the Select Committee was taken into consideration will show that they were introduced because "there are certain administrations, such as Baluchistan and Ajmere, in which there is no Inspector-General of Police, and it is necessary that the Local Government should have the power of investing particular officers with the functions of an Inspector-General of Police" (see Gazette of India, Part VI, 9th March 1895). If it were the intention of the Legislature to include the Suburbs, there could easily have been added the words "Commissioner of Police" after the words "Inspector-General of Police," and before the words "or other officer authorized by the Local Government" in section 15 (2).

J. PRATT.

No. 1667, dated Simla, the 13th August 1897.

From—J. P. HEWETT, Esq., C.I.E., Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department,

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

I am directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 4113-J., dated 28th July last, on the subject of the riots which occurred in Chitpur and in the northern parts of Calcutta on the 30th June and 1st July in connection with the delivery of possession to the Tagore estate, in execution of a decree, of a piece of land at Talla containing a hut which was alleged to be a mosque.

2. The letter from the Commissioner of Police of the 22nd July contains particulars of the litigation in regard to the land at Talla, and the Government of India fully concur with the opinion of His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor that Mr. James acted rightly in rendering assistance to the Civil Court in giving possession to the decree-holder. They are also of opinion that, although the Receiver intimated that he apprehended resistance, the Commissioner had, after his two interviews with the judgment debtor, no reason to anticipate that opposition would be given to the order of the Court. The deputation of the Deputy Commissioner with a Police force to assist the officers of the Court in giving possession to the decree-holder was, in the opinion of the Governor-General in Council, a sufficient precaution, and in fact no resistance was offered to the transfer of possession of the land to the decree-holder. It was not till after the decree-holder had been given possession that Himmat Khan and his friends resolved, at the instance of evil advisers, to retake possession of the land, and there was no disturbance for 30 hours after the possession of the land had been transferred.

3. The result of the action taken by Himmat Khan and those acting with him was that from dawn on the 30th June to 3 P.M. of July 1st there were riots in Talla and the Machooa Bazar section of the town to suppress which the Military and Calcutta Light Horse were utilized as well as the Police. The disturbances with the exception of the incident in Wellington Square, where a hackney carriage was stopped, and one of his assailants mortally wounded by the occupant of it, are reported by the Government of Bengal to have been confined to the northern portion of the town. Fire-arms were eventually used by the Police to suppress the riots, but the Military and the Calcutta Light Horse were not called upon to use their arms. The number of rioters killed is reported by the Commissioner of Police to have been 11, viz., 6 whose bodies were disposed of by the Police after usual inquiries, and 5 who were taken away wounded by their friends and subsequently died. The number of the rioters wounded by gunshots is estimated at 20, but in addition to these a number received injuries from sticks used by the Police in dispersing the different gatherings who resisted them. During the progress of the riots 34 Police officers and men received injuries which necessitated their being sent to hospital. In 12 cases these injuries were of a severe nature. No fire-arms were used by the mob, and no looting was committed, nor any attack made on private houses. Attacks were made on several Europeans in the disturbed area. The Government of India share the view of the Lieutenant-Governor that these attacks were a deplorable incident of the disturbances.

4. Although quiet was restored by the afternoon of July 1st, information was received on July 6th that a large number of Mill-hands had collected above Barrackpore and were coming to Calcutta, and it was also rumoured that the men employed in the Howrah and Garden Reach Mills intended to join the rioters in the town. Precautions were taken to prevent the Mill-hands from entering Calcutta, but none of the men employed in the Mills moved, except above Barrackpore, and they were turned back without difficulty by the Police and a few of the Military sent out from Barrackpore.

5. After the conclusion of the riot certain Muhammadan gentlemen issued a leaflet on July 2nd to the effect that Maharaja Sir Joindra Mohan Tagore had given the land to the Muhammadans. This statement was, however, promptly repudiated by the Maharaja, and His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor refused to countenance any compromise under the circumstances of the case. A second leaflet was on July 7th issued by 6 out of the 7 signatories to the leaflet issued on the 2nd, in which it was stated that the Maharaja had only a life-interest in the property and was unable to dispose of it. It was also explained in the leaflet that unless a piece of land is wakf no mosque can be built on it. There was thus no excuse or justification whatever for those who combined to disturb the public peace on the unwarrantable plea that the proceedings under which the land at Talla was transferred to the possession of the Receiver of the Tagore estate constituted an interference with their religion.

6. The Governor-General in Council desires to express his appreciation of the coolness and firmness displayed by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor in all the action taken by him in connection with the riots. The Muhammadans had in 1891 in the adjoining quarter of Sham Bazar obtained their ends after a display of force. They doubtless hoped to secure a similar result on the present occasion, and the Governor-General in Council entirely agrees with Mr. Stevens that any compromise or concession to them would, in the circumstances of the case, have been entirely unwarranted as well as mischievous. The action of His Honour in refusing to countenance any compromise has the entire approval of the Governor-General in Council. His Excellency also desires to thank His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor for the prompt and effective measures taken by him in consultation with the Military authorities to prevent the entry into Calcutta of bodies of Mill-hands whose presence would have fostered the excitement in the town and probably have led to more lawless outbreaks.

7. The Governor-General in Council cordially endorses the remarks made by His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor as to the readiness with which Lieutenant-Colonel Wilford rendered assistance to the Civil power, and as to the help which the presence of the Military gave in the suppression of the riots. His Excellency in Council has learnt with pleasure that the conduct of all the detachments employed was excellent. His Excellency in Council also shares the appreciation of the Lieutenant-Governor of the alacrity with which the Volunteers offered their services towards the maintenance of order, and has been gratified to learn from the report of the Military authorities that Lieutenant-Colonel Wilford found the Light Horse under the Command of Major Eddis of the greatest use.

8. The Governor-General in Council agrees with the Lieutenant-Governor that the conduct of the Police force throughout the riots was excellent and deserving of all praise. He is also entirely in accord with His Honour in thinking that on the occasion of the riot on the morning of June 30th there was no occasion for them to open fire on the mob. They succeeded in dispersing the mob and in making a large number of arrests without having resort to fire-arms. In paragraph 6 of your letter under reply the opinion of Mr. Stevens is expressed that neither then nor in the morning when the attack was made on the Pumping Station at Talla would the use of fire-arms have been justified. It appears, however, that during the attack on the Pumping Station the Police were actually compelled to fire with a shot gun. And viewing the situation in the light of subsequent events, the Government of India think that the Commissioner might have been better advised had he not left the guard of 25 men at the Talla Pumping Station without fire-arms. On the information before the Government of India it appears to them that there was also undue delay in relieving the guard at Talla. The relief appears not to have taken place for about three hours after assistance had been sent for. The success of the mob in keeping the Police shut up in the Pumping Station for so considerable a time may, the Government of India think, have had the effect of reviving their excitement and encouraging them to think that they might prevail against the Police. Had the police at the Pumping Station been in possession of their carbines, it would have undoubtedly been their duty, in face of a mob they were otherwise unable to control, to have used their fire-arms, and an effective fire at that stage would probably have had the effect of preventing the more serious outbreak of the succeeding morning.

In accordance with the terms of G. G. O. No. 1315, dated the 28th December 1872, as republished in G. G. O. No. 560, dated the 23rd May 1873, the Governor General in Council directs the publication of the following documents regarding the condition of the Indian Military Service Family Pension Fund as on the 31st March 1893:

FINANCIAL (FUNDS).

INDIA OFFICE;

No. 3.

London, 17th June, 1897.

To His Excellency The Right Honourable The Governor General of India in Council.

MY LORD,

With reference to the Notification contained in G. G. O. No. 1315, dated the 28th December 1872, I transmit, for the information of your Excellency in Council and of the subscribers, and also for publication in the Gazette of India, 12 copies of Reports* by Mr. Willis Browne, F.I.A., of this Office, and by Mr. William Sutton, F.I.A., the Actuary of the Registry of Friendly Societies, relating to the fourth quinquennial valuation as at the 31st of March 1893 of the assets and liabilities under the Indian Military Service Family Pension Regulations.

2. I regret that an unusual and unavoidable delay has taken place in the submission of these Reports, owing to the necessity for preparing a new set of Life Tables, etc., based on the experience of the last twenty years, and for considering whether this valuation ought to be made out on the assumption of a $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. rate of interest being used as on former occasions.

3. Your Excellency in Council is aware that the constitutional principle always to be borne in mind is that the revenues of India are not to be liable to any loss or profit in the working of these Regulations. In accordance with this principle it was and is laid down that the rates of contribution must provide the prescribed pensions and no more, and that the Government rates of interest and of exchange with England in connection therewith would be regulated from time to time by the Secretary of State in Council "upon a consideration of the market rates of the day."

4. For the recovery of the contributions in India of the subscribers, the official rate of exchange was last fixed by Lord Cross in his Despatch No. 10, dated the 11th of December 1890. With regard to the rate of interest, it was intimated in paragraph 2 of my Despatch No. 2, dated the 2nd of April 1896, that a rate lower than $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. was being considered for the purpose of the present valuation. Mr. Willis Browne was accordingly instructed to adopt, as a trial, the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. His Report shows, however, a present value deficit of 362,862/., representing about 15 per cent. of the present value of the liabilities.

5. Although Government is not responsible for the stability of the Fund, I am willing that the existing $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. rate of interest should be continued until the valuation for the current quinquennial period, which will expire on the 31st of March next, shall have been considered; but the rate of interest on the insurance branch, under Regulation 25-A, will be reduced to $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. with effect from the 1st of October next.

6. All persons, however, who began to subscribe under these Regulations from and after the 1st April 1893, excepting Marine officers who joined in that year with retrospective effect, will, as from the 1st of April next, be required to pay the supplementary or additional donations* in behalf of their wives and children, as set forth in paragraphs 2 and 4 of Mr. Willis Browne's Report. The suggested alternative of meeting

- * For wives:
 - Class I. not yet determined.
 - Class II. 240/.
 - Class III. 136/.
 - Class IV. 75/.
 - Class V. nil.
- For children on birth:
 - Each son 1/.
 - Each daughter 14/.

these donations by annual subscriptions does not commend itself to my approval. These donations are not claimable in respect of marriages and births which occurred before the 1st of April 1893.

7. Continuous service officers of the Royal Artillery and Royal Engineers, as well as officers and engineers of the Royal Indian Marine, will, as from the 1st of April next, be allowed the concession now enjoyed by other officers of paying donations and monthly contributions, under Regulation 12, at the reduced rate of $16\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. All other† donations now claimable from them will remain unchanged.

- † Vide Financial (Funds) Despatches to Government of India:
 - No. 8, dated 27th November 1890.
 - No. 4, dated 31st August 1892.
 - No. 7, dated 3rd November 1892.
 - No. 5, dated 3rd August 1893.

8. With regard to the charge for expenses of management in this country, the sum of 200/.

per annum is now quite inadequate. It was authorized in the year 1877 "for the present." The receipts and payments for the year 1876-77 amounted only to 2,482/.

6s. 10d. Those for the year 1895-96 come to 32,020/.

16s. 8d. This large increase involves a greater cost of supervision and of clerical work. The Actuary of this Office is of opinion that the Indian charge of $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. should now be adopted, and I have, therefore, sanctioned this percentage with effect from the 1st of April next.

9. I have to request that your Government will hasten the return to this Office of the pro forma half-yearly accounts ending on the 31st March 1898, in order that the next quinquennial valuation may be made as soon as possible.

I have the honour to be,

My Lord,

Your Lordship's most obedient, humble Servant,

(Signed) GEORGE HAMILTON.

ENCLOSURES.

No. 1.

Report by Mr. Willis Browne, dated 9th July 1896.

I annex hereto an abstract of a valuation, at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. interest, of the assets and liabilities of the Indian Military Service Family Pension Fund as at 31st March 1893. In it I show a present value deficit of 362,862/., representing about 15 per cent. of the present value of the liabilities. My instructions were to value the assets and liabilities at a rate of interest that would, on the assumption of the continuation of the existing reduced scale of contributions to existing members, bring the Fund into a state of financial equilibrium. A very difficult task indeed. At the best, the Actuary can do no more in the first instance than guess at the rate required and, after the expenditure of much time and labour, will probably find, on the completion of the valuation, that he is about as near the mark as a child of ten might be. Such was the case in respect of my first attempt. It has, however, led to my coming within measurable distance of the exact rate in this my second attempt. It is, I know, a large deficit, and must not be allowed to stand, but the valuation supplies us with materials upon which to form a basis for future action. In the first place I have assumed, for the purposes of this valuation, that officers joining the Fund after the 31st March 1893 will not retain membership on exactly the same terms as officers who joined prior to that date. If there is to be a reduction in the rate of interest, there must be a line drawn somewhere. On this assumption the rate of interest that would in the valuation show neither surplus nor deficit lies, of course, between $3\frac{1}{2}$ and $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., probably nearer the former. It matters, however, very little, in fact not at all, whether the rate sought for be at once adopted, or whether the rate of $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. be continued until such time as it may be shown that, by accumulation at that rate, it may with safety, i.e., without showing a deficit, be reduced to $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. It is as broad as it is long. Moreover, three years have already elapsed since the date at which the present valuation is made; and it is not at all impossible that at the date of the next valuation, vis., 31st March 1898, the Fund will be in a state of financial equilibrium at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. interest. At any rate it is well worth the trial. The Life Tables and the Annuity and Survivorship values (Incumbent, Contingent, and Potential), at the latter rate of interest, are already prepared, and a valuation could, therefore, be made in a very short space of time after the receipt of the requisite data.

2. As to members of the Fund becoming such after 31st March 1893, it is not possible, assuming a reduction in the rate of interest, to retain the present reduced scale of contributions in all the classes. I may explain this by simply stating that, in the case of an officer marrying in Class V., the reduced amounts of contribution for his wife are ample to provide for her pension, not only in Class V., but in all the higher classes through which he may pass, at the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. interest, whilst, in the case of an officer marrying in Class I., the reduced amounts would not suffice even at $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. Whether this state of things will continue remains to be seen. The cause is apparent. It has been ascertained on recent experience that the original mortality rates at the younger ages were fixed too high and that, had they been fixed according to the data now at our disposal, the contributions required from officers marrying in Class V. would have been considerably less, and to such an extent that the present reduced scale would, as before stated, have sufficed at a $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. rate of interest to provide for the wife's pension. But in the higher classes we have no data in the Fund's experience. It is too early. There is not a sufficiently large number of officers in the higher classes to supply us with mortality rates upon which we could depend. Consequently, the mortality rates on the original data have been used as a continuation of the new rates after a certain age. It is possible, and even probable, that the original rates at the older ages are, as at the younger ages, higher than they should be, although perhaps in a less degree; and as these rates were adopted for fixing the full scale of contributions at a $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. rate of interest, it is apparent that a smaller rate of interest than $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., or a lower scale of contributions than the fixed full scale, could not possibly apply to officers marrying in any of the higher classes. Thus it is seen that, if the existing reduced scale were continued for future officers, each class would have its own rate of interest, whilst if any one rate of interest be adopted, as it must be, the existing scale must, by some means or other, be either altered or supplemented. It is very desirable that there should be but one scale of contributions, including marriage and promotion donations, for all officers alike; and with this end in view, a scale of supplementary payments might be made applicable to officers who have joined subsequent to 31st March 1893 and who may hereafter join. The supplementary amounts required, so far as we know at present, will be as follows:

For wives, in addition to reduced scale:

Officers marrying in Class V., nil.

Officers marrying in Class IV., 75% down at date of marriage, or 5% per annum during joint life.

Officers marrying in Class III., 136% down or 10% per annum.

Officers marrying in Class II., 240% down or 19% 15s. 6d. per annum.

The above annual payments will cease on the death of either husband or wife whichever event shall occur first, but will not be reduced on retirement or during furlough.

3. It is quite possible that the amounts shown above may on future experience be found to bear some considerable reduction; and for this reason I have not, in the absence of more recent data at the older ages, attempted to fix the additional amount that may be required from officers marrying in Class I. It will suffice to examine into the matter at a later date when the experience relating to mortality rates shall have been considerably extended. On the present experience the amounts would vary from 380*l.* to 480*l.* on marriage according to age, but there is good reason to suppose that the rates adopted at the older ages will, as at the younger ages, prove to be too high. In a lesser degree the same may be said in respect of Class II.

4. As regards children, I find that at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. interest the additional birth donation for each daughter will be 14*l.* 15*s.*, and for each son 1*l.* 5*s.* Officers may, perhaps, prefer to pay the same at date of birth; but, if not, the addition for each daughter, vis., 14*l.* 15*s.*, may be converted into a joint life annuity of 1*l.* 8*s.* per annum, the payments ceasing on the death of either father or daughter, whichever event shall occur first.

5. If officers whose membership dates back to about 1st April 1893, but whose names were not included in the data upon which this valuation is based, be allowed to retain membership on the same terms as officers who joined prior to that date, then, of course, a reduction in the rate of interest would probably have to be postponed for a further short period. I mention this with special reference to the Marine officers who have already been required to make additional payments which, in many cases, have proved very heavy.

6. The valuation of the Insurance Fund at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. interest, of which an abstract is attached, shows a surplus of Rs. 9,527. For the present, therefore, the existing rates of premium may remain.

7. My recommendations are as follows:

That the rate of $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. interest be allowed to continue until such time as the Fund shall, on the existing reduced scale of contributions for members who joined prior to 1st April 1893, be self-supporting at the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. interest, when the latter rate shall be immediately adopted.

That all officers who have joined since 31st March 1893, or who may hereafter join, be required to pay the additional sums referred to above, until it shall be shown that such payments are unnecessary.

That Marine officers who joined with retrospective effect in 1893 be considered to have joined prior to 1st April 1893.

That the rate of interest on the Insurance Fund be immediately reduced to $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. per annum.

No. 2.

Report by Mr. William Sutton, dated 10th April 1897.

It will be within the recollection of the Secretary of State that, in connection with the Report which I had the honour of submitting upon the state of the Fund as at 31st March 1888, I pointed out, in my letter of 7th February 1895, that the Fund was at the time allowed a relatively high rate of interest and suggested that it would be desirable, on the occasion of the next valuation, to make use of the assumption of a lower rate of interest than $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

Accordingly I find in the instructions to Mr. Willis Browne, the Actuary to the India Office, that "he has been requested to adopt, as a trial, the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., "with a view to ensure the solvency of the Fund, and to existing members their present "contributions and benefits."

This he has accordingly done in his valuation of the Fund as at March 1893, having taken, as the basis of his investigation, the assumption that $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. interest will in future be the rate of interest allowed. He has evidently bestowed much care on the compilation of the results of his valuation; but the result is clearly of a somewhat unsatisfactory nature, the deficiency shown being the large sum of 362,862*l.*, or a deficiency of future assets, as compared with future liabilities (potential benefits less potential contributions), of 1,056,776*l.*, less 743,444*l.*, or 323,332*l.* showing clearly that the main cause of the deficiency, appearing as the result of the present investigation, is brought about by the future benefits and contributions.

This would naturally be the result of fixing the scale of contributions on the assumption that the rate of interest borne by the assets of the Fund will be the high rate of $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. At the same time there appear to be some changes made in certain matters with regard to the rates of mortality, and it would certainly be most desirable that particulars of these alterations, which no doubt are in great measure unavoidable, should be set out in detail. It is true that, in previous valuations, it was not found necessary to bring in the values of the so-called potential benefits and potential contributions from the fact that, where the rate of interest used is throughout so high as the present rate, vis., $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent., the values of the potential benefits would agree with the values of the potential assets, but in this case the rate of interest has been lowered throughout, and that considerably.

The Insurance Fund, on the other hand, from using the low rate of interest as compared with what has hitherto been the case, shows a small surplus, and I have no hesitation in recommending that Mr. Willis Browne's recommendations as regards the Insurance Fund be accepted and acted upon.

In regard to the Indian Military Family Service Pension Fund, I would beg leave respectively to submit the following recommendations for your consideration:

(1) That the Fund be permitted to continue as hitherto, the rate of interest allowed being $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. until the date of the investigation on 31st March 1898.

(2) That on the 31st March 1898 the usual actuarial investigation be made, and that the same be made on the basis of $3\frac{1}{2}$, $3\frac{3}{4}$, 4 and $4\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. interest, and that at this date the Secretary of State for India do, having regard to the previously reduced scale of contributions in force for members joining before 31st March 1893, fix the rate of interest to be borne by the Fund, and that the scale of contributions and donations corresponding thereto be fixed for the members entering the Fund after that date, and also that the scale of contributions and donations then adopted, and the rate or rates of interest then fixed by the Secretary of State shall be in force until further instructions be given by the Secretary of State.

(3) As an important matter of form it would add greatly to the facility with which the matter could in future be dealt with if the abstract of valuation could be made to give the number of benefits, the total amounts of pension insured for every particular class of benefit and the corresponding values of the pensions and contributions therefor.

Draft Rules.

PRELIMINARY.

1. In these rules, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context,—

Definition.

(1) the expression "electric supply-line" means a wire or wires, conductor, or other means used for the purpose of conveying, transmitting or

- distributing electricity for light or power, with any casing, coating, covering, tube, pipe or insulator enclosing, surrounding or supporting the same or any part thereof, or any apparatus connected therewith for the purpose of conveying, transmitting or distributing electricity or electric currents for light or power ;
- (2) the expression "main" means a conductor used to convey electricity from the source of supply to the point or points where it is distributed for use ;
 - (3) the expression "service-line" or "lead" means a conductor used to distribute electricity from the mains to the various appliances in which it is to be used ;
 - (4) the expression "cut-off" means any appliance for confining the flow of electricity to conductors capable of safely carrying it when its amount rises accidentally above the normal ;
 - (5) the expressions "transformer," "transformed" and "transforming" are used in relation to any appliance by means of which electricity of high potential is converted to electricity of lower potential, or vice versa ;
 - (6) the expression "undertakers" means the person or persons undertaking the business of supplying electricity or intending to use electricity for any public purpose or in any place such as is referred to in section 3 of the Act ;
 - (7) the expression "consumer's wires" means any electric supply-lines on a consumer's premises which are connected with the service-lines of the undertakers at the consumer's terminals ;
 - (8) the expression "aërial line" means any electric supply-line which is placed above ground and in the open air ;
 - (9) the expressions "pressure," "high pressure" and "extra high pressure" are used in relation to electric supply-lines, conductors, circuits and apparatus, according to the conditions of the supply delivered through the same or particular portions thereof ;
 - (10) the expression "pressure" means the difference of electric potential between any two conductors through which a supply of energy is given, or between any part of either conductor and the earth ;
 - (11) where the conditions of the supply are such that the pressure may at any time exceed 500 volts, if continuous, or 250 volts, if alternating, but cannot exceed 3,000 volts, whether continuous or alternating, the supply shall be deemed a "high pressure supply" ;
 - (12) where the conditions of the supply are such that the pressure may, on either system, exceed 3,000 volts, the supply shall be deemed an "extra high pressure supply" .
 - (13) where these rules require any metallic body to be "efficiently connected with earth," it shall be connected with the general mass of earth in such manner as will ensure at all times an immediate and safe discharge of electrical energy ; and
 - (14) the expression "street" includes any way, road, lane, square, court, alley, passage or open space, whether a thoroughfare or not, over which the public have a right of way, and also the road-way and foot-way over any public bridge or causeway.

Protection of person and property.

2. Whenever notice has been given by the undertakers under section 3 of the Act, the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police, as the case may be, receiving such notice, shall forthwith report the circumstance to the Local Government, and the Local Government may thereupon authorize any officer, either by name or in virtue of his office, to enter, inspect and examine any place, carriage or vessel in which the officer has reason to believe any appliances or apparatus used in the generation or supply of electricity are, and any building or place to and in which electricity is, to be supplied and used.

3. The Local Government shall, if necessary, instruct the District Magistrate, or, in a Presidency-town, the Commissioner of Police, as to the roads or public places in which overhead electric supply-lines are not to be allowed, and the undertakers shall attend to any orders of such officer in this respect.

4. The undertakers shall provide all means for testing the appliances or apparatus used in the generation or the supply and use of electricity.

5. The pressure of a supply delivered to any one consumer shall not exceed 250 volts at any pair of terminals, except with the express approval of the Local Government, which shall be given only for special purposes, on the joint application of the consumer and the undertakers, and subject to such further conditions as the Local Government may prescribe.

6. The pressure of a supply delivered to a transforming station or to transforming apparatus on a consumer's premises may exceed 250 volts, but shall not exceed the limits of high pressure.

7. An extra high pressure supply shall not be delivered, except to distributing stations or other premises in the sole occupation of the undertakers, and then only with the written consent of the Local Government and subject to such further conditions as that Government may prescribe.

8. The maximum working current in a conductor shall not be sufficient to raise the temperature of the conductor or any part thereof to such an extent as to materially alter the physical condition or specific resistance of the insulating covering (if any) or in any case to raise such temperature to a greater extent than 33°F. The cross-sectional area and conductivity at joints shall be sufficient to avoid local heating, and the joints shall be protected against corrosion.

9. The sectional area of the conductor in an electric supply-line laid or erected in any street after the commencement of these Rules shall not be less than the area of a circle of one-tenth of an inch diameter, and, where the conductor is formed of a strand of wires, each separate wire shall be at least as large as No. 20 standard wire gauge.

10. All material used for insulating electric supply-lines or apparatus shall be of the best quality and thoroughly durable and efficient with regard to the conditions of its use. Suitable provision shall be made for the protection of the insulating material against injury or removal, and, if a protection so provided is wholly or partly metallic, it shall be efficiently connected with earth.

11. Every main shall be tested for insulation after having been placed in position and before it is used for the purposes of supply, the testing pressure being at least 200 volts, and the undertakers shall duly record the results of the tests of each main or section of a main.

12. The insulation of every complete circuit used for the supply of energy, including all machinery, apparatus and devices forming part of, or connected with, such circuit, shall be so maintained that the leakage current shall not under any conditions exceed one-thousandth part of the maximum supply current. Suitable means shall be provided for the immediate indication and localisation of leakage, and every leakage shall be remedied without delay. Every such circuit shall be tested for insulation at least once in every week and the undertakers shall duly record the results of the testings:

Provided that, where the Local Government has approved of any part of any electric circuit being connected with earth, the provisions of this rule shall not apply to that circuit so long as such connection exists,

13. Every high pressure conductor laid after the commencement of these Rules shall be continuously covered with insulating material to a thickness of not less than one-tenth part of an inch, and, in cases where the extreme difference of potential in the circuit exceeds 2,000 volts, the thickness of insulating material shall not be less in inches or parts of an inch than the number obtained by dividing the number expressing the volts by 20,000.

14. (1) No high pressure circuit shall be brought into use unless the insulation of every part thereof has withstood the continuous application, during one hour, of pressure exceeding the maximum pressure to which it is intended to be subjected in use: that is to say, in the case of every electric supply-line, a pressure twice the said maximum pressure, and, in the case of every machine, device or apparatus, a pressure 50 per cent. greater than the said maximum pressure.

(2) The undertakers shall duly record the results of each test.

15. Every high pressure electric supply-line, conductor or other apparatus shall be protected by a suitable automatic quick-acting cut-off for high-pressure electric supply-lines, etc.

Provided that it shall not be incumbent upon the undertakers to provide such a cut-off for the outer conductor of a concentric main which is, with the approval of the Local Government, efficiently connected with earth.

16. In every case in which a high pressure supply is transformed for the purpose of supply to one or more consumers, suitable automatic and quick-acting means shall be provided to protect the consumer's wires from any accidental contact with, or leakage from, the high pressure system, either within or without the transforming apparatus.

17. A high pressure electric supply-line shall not be used for the transmission of more than 300,000 watts, or, in the case of an aerial line, 50,000 watts, except with the consent in writing of the Local Government, and efficient means shall be provided to prevent this limit being at any time exceeded.

18. Where any portion of an electric supply-line or any support for an electric supply-line is exposed in such a position as to be liable to injury from lightning, it shall be efficiently protected against such injury.

19. Where any accident by explosion or fire, or any other accident of such kind as to have caused or to be likely to have caused loss of life or personal injury has occurred at any part of an electric supply-line or work, the undertakers shall give immediate notice thereof to the Local Government.

Aërial Lines.

20. Every aerial line shall be attached to supports at intervals not exceeding 200 feet, where the direction of the line is straight, and 150 feet, where the direction is curved or where the line makes a horizontal angle at the point of support.

21. Every support of an aerial line shall be of a durable material, and properly stayed against forces due to wind-pressure, change of direction of the line or unequal lengths of span. The factor of safety shall be for aerial lines and suspending wires at least six, and for all other parts of the structure at least twelve, the maximum possible wind-pressure being taken at 50lbs. per square foot. No addition need be made for a possible accumulation of snow.

22. Aerial lines shall be attached to insulators, and shall be so guarded that they cannot fall away from the support. Conductors covered with insulating material shall not be attached to the insulators by un-insulated metal binders.

23. (1) An aerial line shall not in any part thereof be at a less height from the ground than 18 feet, or, where it crosses a street, 30 feet, or within 5 feet measured horizontally or 7 feet measured vertically from any building or erection other than a support for the line, except where brought into a building for the purpose of supply.

(2) Except with the approval of the Local Government and of the telegraph authority, only one side of a street may be occupied by aerial lines.

24. Service-lines from aerial lines shall be led as directly as possible to insulators firmly attached to some portion of the consumer's premises which is not accessible to any person without the use of a ladder or other special appliance, and from this point of attachment they shall be enclosed and protected in accordance with the subsequent rules as to electric supply-lines on the consumer's premises. Every portion of a service-line which is outside, but is within 7 feet of, a building, shall be completely enclosed in stout India-rubber tubing.

25. Where an aerial line crosses a street, the angle between the line and the direction of the street at the place of crossing shall not be less than 60° and the spans shall be as short as possible.

Angle of crossing thoroughfares.

26. Where an aerial line crosses, or is in proximity to, any metallic substance, precautions shall be taken by the undertakers against the possibility of the line coming into contact with the metallic substance or of the metallic substance coming into contact with the line by breakage or otherwise.

Crossing wire, etc.

27. Every high pressure aerial line shall be efficiently suspended by means of insulating ligaments to suspending wires, so that the weight of the line may not produce any sensible stress in the direction of its length. All suspending wires, if of iron or steel, shall be galvanised.

Suspending wires.

28. In the case of any high pressure aerial line exceeding one-half mile in length, means shall be provided whereby the pressure may be discharged from any portion of the line erected over, or alongside of, any building or buildings without loss of time in case of fire or other emergency.

Discharge of pressure in case of fire.

29. Every aerial line, including its supports and all the structural parts and electrical appliances and devices belonging to, or connected with, the line, shall be duly and efficiently supervised and maintained as regards both electrical and mechanical conditions.

Maintenance.

30. An aerial line shall not be permitted to remain erected after it has ceased to be used for the supply of energy, unless the undertakers intend within a reasonable time again to take it into use.

Unused aerial lines to be removed.

Electric Supply-lines other than Aerial Lines.

31. All conduits, pipes, casings and street-boxes used as receptacles for electric supply-lines shall be constructed of durable material, and, where laid under carriage-ways, shall be of sufficient strength to prevent damage from heavy traffic; and reasonable means shall be taken by the undertakers to prevent the accumulation of gas in such receptacles.

32. Where an electric supply-line crosses, or is in proximity to, any metallic substance, special precautions shall be taken by the undertakers against the possibility of any electrical discharge to the metallic substance from the line or from any metal conduit, pipe or casing enclosing the line.

Crossing pipes, etc.

33. All metal conduits, pipes or casings containing any electric supply-line shall be efficiently connected with earth, and shall be so jointed and connected across all street-boxes and other openings as to make good electrical connection throughout their whole length.

Electric continuity of metal conduits, pipes or casings.

34. Where isolated lengths of metal conduits, pipes, or casings are used for the protection of any electric supply-line at road-crossings or similar positions, special precautions shall be taken to prevent the possibility of any electrical charging thereof.

Precautions against charging of short lengths of pipes, &c.

35. (1) Where the conductors of electric supply-lines placed in any conduit are not continuously covered with insulating material, they shall be secured in position, and no unfixed uninsulated material of a conducting nature shall be contained in the conduit. No such conductor shall be at a higher potential than 300 volts.

Precautions to be taken when bare conductors are used.

(2) Adequate precautions shall also be taken to ensure that no accumulation of water shall take place in any part of the conduit and to prevent any dangerous access of moisture to the conductors or the insulators.

(3) In the case of any such electric supply-lines laid in conduits after the commencement of these Rules, the insulators shall be so disposed that they can be readily inspected.

36. Every portion of an high pressure electric supply-line placed above the surface of the ground, or in any subway not in the sole occupation of the undertakers, shall be completely enclosed, either in a tube of highly insulating material embedded in brickwork, masonry or cement concrete, or in a strong metal casing efficiently connected with earth.

37. Where an high pressure electric supply-line is laid beneath the surface of the ground, efficient means shall be taken to render it impossible that the surface of the ground or any neighbouring electric supply-line or conductor shall become charged by leakage therefrom.

Street-Boxes.

38. In addition to the provisions contained in rule 31 as to the construction of receptacles for electric supply-lines, the following rules shall be observed with respect to the construction of street-boxes :

(a) The cover of every street-box shall be so secured that it cannot be opened except by means of a special appliance.

(b) The covers of all street-boxes containing high pressure apparatus other than cables shall be connected with strips of metal laid immediately underneath the adjacent roadway, and efficient means shall be taken to render it impossible that the covers or other exposed parts of such boxes, or any adjacent material forming the surface of the street, shall become electrically charged, whether by reason of leakage, defect or otherwise.

(c) Where street-boxes are used as transformer chambers, reasonable means shall be taken to prevent, as far as possible, any influx of water, either from the adjacent soil or by means of pipes ; and, in the case of any such street-box exceeding one cubic-yard in capacity, ample provision shall be made, by ventilation or otherwise, for the immediate escape of any gas which may by accident have obtained access to the box, and for the prevention of danger from sparking.

(d) Every street-box shall be regularly inspected for the presence of gas, and, if any influx or accumulation is discovered, the undertakers shall give immediate notice to the authority or company whose gas mains are laid in the neighbourhood thereof.

Transforming Stations.

39. Transforming stations, or points, which are in a system of distribution wherein a high pressure supply is transformed for the purpose of supply to consumers, and which are not on the consumer's premises, shall be established in suitable places in the sole occupation and charge of the undertakers.

Consumer's Premises.

40. The undertakers shall be responsible for all electric supply-lines, fittings and apparatus belonging to them or under their control, which may be upon a consumer's premises, being maintained in a safe condition and in all respects fit for supplying energy.

41. In delivering the energy to a consumer's terminals the undertakers shall exercise all due precautions so as to avoid risk of causing fire on the consumer's premises.

42. A suitable safety fuse or other automatic disconnecter shall be inserted in each service-line within a consumer's premises as close as possible to the point of entry and contained within a suitable locked or sealed receptacle of fireproof construction, except in cases where the service-line is protected by fuses in a street-box.

43. All electric supply-lines and apparatus placed on a consumer's premises shall be highly insulated and thoroughly protected against injury to the insulation or access of moisture, and any metal forming part of the electric circuit shall not, unless efficiently connected with earth, be exposed so that it can be touched. All electric supply-lines shall be so fixed and protected as to prevent the possibility of electrical discharge to any adjacent metallic substance.

44. Where the general supply of energy is a high pressure supply and transforming apparatus is installed on a consumer's premises, the whole of the high pressure service-lines, conductors and apparatus, including the transforming apparatus itself, so far as they are on the consumer's premises, shall be completely enclosed in solid walls or in a strong metal casing efficiently connected with earth, and shall be securely fastened throughout.

45. The undertakers shall not connect the wires and fittings on a consumer's premises with their mains unless they are reasonably satisfied that the connection will not cause a leakage from those wires and fittings exceeding one ten-thousandth part of the maximum supply current to the consumer's premises; and, where the undertakers decline to make such a connection, they shall serve upon the consumer a notice stating their reasons for so declining.

46. (1) If the undertakers are reasonably satisfied, after making all proper examination by testing or otherwise, that a leakage exists at some part of a circuit of such extent as to be a source of danger, and that such leakage does not exist at any part of a circuit belonging to the undertakers, then and in such case any person authorized in writing by the undertakers in that behalf, or, on the application of the undertakers, an officer authorized under rule 2, may, for the purpose of discovering whether the leakage exists at any part of a circuit within or upon any consumer's premises, after giving the consumer reasonable notice in writing, inspect and test the wires and fittings belonging to the consumer and forming part of the circuit.

(2) In any case in which the undertakers obtain the services of an officer under this rule they shall pay him such fee as the Local Government may fix in that behalf.

(3) If, on such testing, such person or officer as aforesaid discovers a leakage from the consumer's wires exceeding one ten-thousandth part of the maximum supply current to the premises, or if the consumer does not give all due facilities for inspection and testing, the undertakers shall forthwith discontinue the supply of energy to the premises in question, giving immediate notice of the discontinuance to the consumer, and shall not re-commence the supply until they are reasonably satisfied that the leakage has been stopped.

47. (1) If any consumer is dissatisfied with the action of the undertakers in refusing to give or in discontinuing or in not re-commencing the supply of energy to his premises, the wires and fittings of such consumer may, on his application and on payment of the prescribed fee, be tested for the existence of leakage by an officer authorized under rule 2.

(2) This rule shall be endorsed on every notice given under the provisions of either of the two last foregoing rules.

Arc Lighting.

48. All arc lamps shall be so guarded as to prevent pieces of ignited carbon or broken glass falling from them, and shall not be used in situations where there is any danger of the presence of explosive dust or gas.

49. Arc lamps used in any street for public lighting shall be so fixed as not to be in any part at a less height than ten feet from the ground.

50. Arc lamps used in any street for private lighting shall be fixed so as not to be anywhere at a less height than eight feet from the ground, and shall be so screened as to prevent risk of contact with persons. A cut-off switch, fixed in a suitable locked receptacle, shall be provided for every high pressure arc lamp, and the switch shall be of such pattern and construction as will provide—

- (a) that the lamp can by its means be entirely disconnected from the supply circuit;
- (b) that the switch itself can be safely worked in the dark without special precautions; and
- (c) that there shall be no danger of any injurious electrical arcing, sparking or heating being caused by the operation of the switch.

Telegraph lines.

51. The undertakers shall construct their electric supply-lines and other works of all descriptions, and shall work their undertaking, in all respects with due regard to the telegraph lines established by, or by license from, the Governor General in Council and to the currents in such telegraph lines, and shall use every reasonable means in the construction of their electric supply-lines and other works of all descriptions and in the working of their undertaking to prevent injurious affection, whether by induction or otherwise, to such telegraph lines or the currents therein. If any question arises as to whether the undertakers have constructed their electric supply-lines or other works, or worked their undertaking in contravention of this rule, such question shall be determined by the Local Government, and the undertakers shall be bound to make any alterations in, or additions to, their system which may be directed by that Government.

52. If any telegraph line is injuriously affected by the construction by the undertakers of their electric supply-lines and works or by the working of the undertaking by the undertakers, the undertakers shall pay the expense of all such alterations in such telegraph lines as may be necessary to remedy such injurious affection.

Explanation.—A telegraph line shall be deemed to be injuriously affected by an act or work, if telegraphic communication by means of such line is, whether through induction or otherwise, in any manner affected by such act or work, or by any use made of such work.

53. Before any electric supply-line is laid down or any act or work in connection therewith is done within ten yards of any part of a telegraph line (other than repairs or the laying of lines crossing such telegraph line at right angles at the point of shortest distance and so continuing for a distance of six feet on each side of such point), the undertakers shall, not more than twenty-eight nor less than fourteen days before commencing the work, give notice in writing to the telegraph authority, specifying the course of the line and the nature of the work, including the gauge of any wire, and the undertakers shall conform with such reasonable requirements (either general or special) as may from time to time be made by the telegraph authority for the purpose of preventing any telegraph line from being injuriously affected by the said act or work.

54. Any difference between the telegraph authority and the undertakers with respect to any requirements of the telegraph authority shall be referred to the Local Government for decision and the orders of that Government thereon shall be final.

55. Nothing in the four last foregoing rules shall apply to any case in which the undertakers can show that the immediate doing of the act or execution of the work was required to avoid an accident, or otherwise was a work of emergency, and that they forthwith served on the officer in charge of the Central Government Telegraph Office at the town or station where the act or work was done a notice in writing of the execution thereof, stating the reason for doing or executing the same without previous notice.

2. No person will be deemed qualified who shall not satisfy the Civil Service Commissioners :

(i) That he is a natural-born subject of Her Majesty.

(ii) That he had attained the age of twenty-one, and had not attained the age of twenty-three, on the first day of the year in which the Examination is held.

[N.B.—In the case of Natives of India it will be necessary for a Candidate to obtain a certificate of age and nationality signed, should he be a resident in British India, by the Secretary to Government of the Province, or the Commissioner of the Division within which his family resides, or should he reside in a Native State, by the highest Political Officer accredited to the State in which his family resides.]

(iii) That he has no disease, constitutional affection, or bodily infirmity unfitting him, or likely to unfit him, for the Civil Service of India.

(iv) That he is of good moral character.

3. Should the evidence upon the above points be prima facie satisfactory to the Civil Service Commissioners, the Candidate, on payment of the prescribed fee, will be admitted to the Examination. The Commissioners may, however, in their discretion at any time prior to the grant of the Certificate of Qualification hereinafter referred to, institute such further inquiries as they may deem necessary; and if the result of such inquiries, in the case of any Candidate, should be unsatisfactory to them in any of the above respects, he will be ineligible for admission to the Civil Service in India, and, if already selected, will be removed from the position of a Probationer.

(iv) All Candidates obtaining Certificates will be also required to enter into covenants, by which, amongst other things, they will bind themselves to make such payments as under the rules and regulations for the time being in force, they may be required to make towards their own pensions or for the pensions of their families. The stamps payable on these covenants amount to £ 1.

(v) The seniority in the Civil Service of India of the Selected Candidates will be determined according to the order in which they stand on the list resulting from the combined marks of the Open Competitive and Final Examinations.

(vi) Selected Candidates will be required to report their arrival in India within such period after the grant of their Certificate of Qualification as the Secretary of State may in each case direct.

(vii) Candidates rejected at the Final Examination held in any year will in no case be allowed to present themselves for re-examination.

CIVIL SERVICE OF INDIA.

CLERKSHIPS (CLASS I) IN THE HOME CIVIL SERVICE; AND EASTERN CADETSHIPS.

SYLLABUS showing the extent of the Examination in certain subjects, after the Examination to be held in 1897.

English Composition.—An Essay to be written on one of several subjects specified by the Civil Service Commissioners on their Examination Paper.

English Language and Literature.—The Examination will be in two parts. In the one the Candidates will be expected to show a general acquaintance with the course of English Literature, as represented (mainly) by the following writers in verse and prose, between the reign of Edward III and the accession of Queen Victoria.

Verse—Chaucer, Langland, Spenser, Shakespeare, Milton, Dryden, Pope, Gray, Collins, Johnson, Goldsmith, Crabbe, Cowper, Campbell, Wordsworth, Scott, Byron, Coleridge, Shelley, Keats.

Prose—Bacon, Sir Thomas Browne, Milton, Cowley, Bunyan, Dryden, Swift, Defoe, Addison, Johnson, Burke, Scott, Macaulay (Essays and Biographies).

A minute knowledge of the works of these authors will not be looked for in this part of the Examination, which will, however, test how far the Candidates have studied the chief productions of the greatest English writers in themselves, and are acquainted with the leading characteristics of their thought and style, and with the place which each of them occupies in the history of English Literature. Candidates will also be expected to show that they have studied in these authors the history of the English Language in respect of its vocabulary, syntax, and prosody.

The other part of the Examination will relate to one of the periods named below, which will follow each other year by year in the order indicated :

- | | |
|--------|---|
| 1. | A. D. 1700 to A. D. 1800 |
| (1898) | [Pope to Cowper.] |
| 2. | A. D. 1800 to A. D. 1832 |
| (1899) | [Nineteenth Century writers to the death of Scott.] |
| 3. | A. D. 1360 to A. D. 1600 |
| (1900) | [Chaucer to Spenser.] |
| 4. | A. D. 1600 to A. D. 1700 |
| (1901) | [Shakespeare to Dryden.] |

The Examination in this part will require from Candidates a more minute acquaintance with the history of the English Language and Literature, as illustrated in the chief works produced in each period, and will be based to a considerable extent, but by no means exclusively, on certain books specified each year by the Commissioners.* The names placed under the dates are intended to suggest the general character of the literary development of the period, and, consequently, the natural limits of the Examination. All the works of Shakespeare, for example, will be regarded as falling within the period 1600 to 1700; all the works of Swift within the period 1700 to 1800; all the works of Scott and Wordsworth, and all the works of Macaulay within the period 1800 to 1832.

SALVAGE.

No. 57.—The Governor-General in Council is pleased to direct the publication for general information of the subjoined letters, reporting the rescue by the R.I.M.S. Mayo on the 26th June 1897, of the surviving passengers and crew of the P. & O. S.S. Aden.

2. His Excellency desires to place on record his appreciation of the skillful manner in which this dangerous duty was carried out by Commander Thomas Arthur Leach De Berry and the officers and crew of the Mayo, and particularly of the gallantry of the boat's crew under Lieutenant Henry Charles Edward Dobbin, R.I.M., and Sub-Lieutenant Oliver Goldsmith, R.I.M., who successfully performed the perilous task of removing the survivors from the wreck to the R.I.M.S. Mayo.

Letter from the Political Resident, Aden, No. 206, dated 1st July 1897.

"In continuation of my telegram of the 29th ultimo, I have the honour to submit the following report which gives details impossible to convey in a telegram.

"2. On the morning of the 21st instant the Agent of the P. & O. Company called at my house and informed me that he had received a telegram from Perim to the effect that a passing steamer had signalled a wreck on shore at Socotra, and as he was anxious about the P. & O. S.S. Aden, he consulted me as to the advisability of sending assistance. As I knew there had been an old wreck there for some time, I at once wired to the Assistant Resident, Perim, to know if he had any information of a recent wreck there; before this reached him I received the following from him :

'Steamer Volute signals steamer ashore east coast Socotra, abandoned by crew, name unknown. No assistance can be rendered.'

"3. The following day however, information received from a steamer which came in here made it seem doubtful as to the absolute correctness of the above information, and though at this time of year it seemed exceedingly problematical whether anything could be done to assist any vessel ashore on the east coast of Socotra, I decided that the Mayo should go out and at once directed her to get up steam as rapidly as possible. She left in the early morning of the 23rd and returned on the evening of the 28th. How exceedingly opportune her despatch was will be seen from the enclosed report from Commander DeBerry. No. 76, of the 28th ultimo, as from what I have since heard it is almost certain the wreck could not have held together 24 hours longer.

"4. From all accounts received from ships which have passed Socotra lately the weather off the east coast of the Island—always bad during the monsoon—is stated to have been abnormally violent of late. Under such circumstances, I trust Government will concur with me in considering that the manner in which Commander DeBerry conducted the operations which resulted in the saving of so many lives is deserving of the highest praise, and speaks volumes in favour of the discipline and good management which must have prevailed on board his ship. It is a matter of extreme regret that information of the wreck was not received sooner, when no doubt the number saved would have been even larger. I attach a list of those missing received from the P. & O. Agent here, and I fear there can be but little doubt that all those mentioned in the list have perished.

"5. I would desire most cordially to endorse the remarks of Commander DeBerry contained in paragraph 6 of his report concerning the conduct of Lieutenant Dobbin, Sub-Lieutenant Goldsmith, and the Native crew, who volunteered to man the boat on the occasion. I have learnt through the survivors how difficult and dangerous the duty was; the sea was very high, washing clean over the wreck and the wind was very strong. There was quite a gale blowing; notwithstanding this, owing to the good management of Lieutenant Dobbin and the persistent pluck displayed by all in the boat, every soul remaining on the wreck was got off without mishap of any kind though two trips had to be made in such weather and the danger of the boat being stove in against the wreck was extreme and only averted by skilful management. I venture to hope that some recognition of their conduct on this occasion may be afforded Lieutenant Dobbin and his companions.

"6. The conduct of the P. and O. vessel alluded to in paragraph 2 of Commander DeBerry's report, which, I understand, was the Simla, appears quite inexplicable; it is to be hoped, however, that some satisfactory explanation may be forthcoming.

"7. In conclusion, I have only to say that the European survivors, who were all more or less injured and suffering from exposure and want of food, were loud in their praise of the kindness and attention they received from all on board the Mayo; especially were they grateful to Assistant Surgeon R. G. Ives, in medical charge of the ship, who was unremitting in his attentions day and night.

"8. The Europeans all left for England by the mail of the 30th June, and I attach, for the information of Government, a copy of the letter which they sent me prior to their departure.

"The Native survivors were taken on board the S.S. Ganges here.

"9. I cannot conclude this letter without bringing to notice how extremely desirable it is that a light should be erected on the east end of Socotra; vessels following the track of the ill-fated Aden come on to the Island without any warning especially when, as happens so often during the monsoon, they have been unable to obtain sights for several days, and the immunity from danger which a light in that position would give is, I understand, fully recognised by all Commanders of ships passing the Island from Colombo."

No. 76, dated Aden, the 28th June 1897.

From—T. A. L. DeBERRY, Commander, Royal Indian Marine Steamer Mayo,

To—The Political Resident, Aden.

In accordance with your order I proceeded to Tamrida on the 23rd instant and arrived there about noon of 25th and after some difficulty communicated with the shore. On enquiry I heard that a black painted vessel with one funnel has been wrecked off Cape Redressa, some 15 days before, whether still there or not I could not find out; I was also informed that for the first three nights after wreck was seen, rockets and lights were seen on board but had not been seen since,

2. Acting on this information I proceeded intending to get as near to the wreck as possible that night. She was sighted at about 4 P.M., and as I neared her I had no doubt as to her being a P. and O. vessel. It was blowing very hard at the time and heavy sprays were going over the ship, which quite prevented my being able to see if any people were on board; although a flag was flying from her foremast, and considering the sea too heavy to approach nearer to her, I anchored at 5-30 under the land for the night (I may mention here that a P. and O. vessel bound to the east was off the wreck the same time as we were, she having, I think, come from Aden. I signalled to her, but am afraid my signal was not seen as she proceeded on her course). At 7-15 an officer went aloft to see if any lights were being shown on the wreck, and was much relieved to see that lights were visible. I burned blue lights to let the people on board know that we knew they were on board, but I heard afterwards they were not seen as we had not burned high enough up; the wreck being the other side of a high spit of land from where we were lying.

3. At daybreak I weighed and proceeded to the wreck getting as close as I considered safe, which was between $\frac{1}{2}$ and $\frac{3}{4}$ miles and found enough water to anchor in, which I did in 20 fathoms.

4. With as little delay as possible (the people being now plainly seen huddled together on board) I sent a boat with Lieutenant Dobbin and Sub-Lieutenant Goldsmith to the wreck which they succeeded in reaching in about 40 minutes, and considering the extremely heavy sea running and wind blowing at the time, I consider they did very well; this boat returned to the ship with the Europeans and some 8 Natives, and after a short stay alongside returned again to the wreck bringing back the remainder of the crew, in all about 22 men. Lieutenant Dobbin reported to me the wreck seemed to be moving and showing signs of rapidly breaking up when he left; she certainly was being swept by tremendous seas and to me it is a wonder she held together so long.

The wreck occurred about 3 A.M. the 8th instant on the reef of rocks S. E. of Redressa, her funnel has gone at the deck, and all deck work except 3 ventilators are gone; the two masts are still standing, but she has broken her back, I should say, just before the bridge.

5. The survivors seem to have had terrible privations and all the Europeans are more or less injured.

6. In concluding this report, I beg you will allow me to draw your attention to the gallant conduct of Lieutenant Dobbin and Sub-Lieutenant Goldsmith as well as the boat's crew, who were all volunteers, and that if ever comment is made on the saving of the survivors of the S. S. Aden, consideration will be taken of the heavy sea running and wind at the time, which were both rapidly increasing, and I don't think I should have considered it safe to send the boat back a third time. I have the honour to enclose a list of those rescued on Saturday morning the 26th instant.

RESOLUTION.—Since the issue of Public Works Department Resolution No. 2112-G., dated 19th July 1892, quoted in the preamble, the conditions for the practical training and appointment to the Department of passed students of the Engineer class of the Thomason Civil Engineering College, Rurki, have been changed, and it has become necessary to modify Rule IV of the Regulations contained in the Resolution quoted above. The Governor General in Council is accordingly pleased to direct that the rule shall be altered as follows :

IV.—Recruits from the Indian Colleges, other than the Thomason College, Rurki, shall be appointed as apprentices on Rs. 100 per month, and shall remain on probation until they have proved their thorough fitness for service in the Department. They shall then be promoted to 3rd grade Assistant Engineer on Rs. 250 and shall be required to pass the examination laid down in Public Works Code, Volume I, Chapter II, paragraphs 23—25, before promotion to 2nd grade Assistant Engineer. If they are not recommended within three years for promotion to 3rd grade Assistant Engineer, they shall be liable to removal from the Department.

For the purpose of awarding to students of the Thomason Civil Engineering College, Rurki, the five guaranteed appointments in the Public Works Department, not more than ten qualified Civil Engineering students will be appointed in the order of merit in which they stand in the final examination list, as apprentices in the Public Works Department, and will be allotted to the several Local Governments and Administrations, in the proportion of two apprentices (one being from among the first five in the order of merit) to each guaranteed appointment, so far as the numbers of students who qualify may admit.

On the expiry of one year the Local Government or Administration shall decide as between two apprentices serving under it in respect of a guaranteed appointment, whether either or both have proved, in the course of their practical training, their thorough fitness for appointment to the Public Works Department. If the Local Government or Administration decide that neither has proved his fitness, it may dispense with the services of either or both, or may extend the probation of either or both for a further period not exceeding two years from such date. If the Local Government or Administration decide that one only of the two has proved his fitness it shall appoint him to be an Assistant Engineer, 3rd grade, and discharge the other. If the Local Government or Administration decide that both are fit for appointment, it shall select and appoint to be Assistant Engineer, 3rd grade, the apprentice who stood first in order of merit in the College final examination, and in discharging the other, shall cause to be endorsed on his College certificate a certificate of his practical fitness. In any case the appointment made should be reported to the Government of India, for information, and for confirmation of the appointment.

Their further promotion will be regulated by the same rules as that of other Assistant Engineers of the Provincial Service.

An apprentice shall receive a salary of Rs. 100 a month if an European or Eurasian, and of Rs. 50 if a pure native of India.

2. That portion of Rule IV relating to the Thomason College, as reconstructed above, shall not apply to students who entered the College in April 1897, after undergoing the examination for entrance into that College in November 1896, but it shall apply to all subsequent entrants.
